Speaker Haugaard made the following statement prior to the start of today's session:

First of all, I will express my appreciation to the entire staff of the Legislative Research Council who have worked long hours over these past weeks to facilitate today's proceedings. That includes all members of the staff who are responsible for fiscal analysis, drafting of legislation, as well as all of the support staff who make all of this possible. I want to draw special attention to the IT staff who, on very short notice, have created and tested new processes for this day. I suspect we will have some challenges, but we have not experienced any problems which could not be resolved by our staff.

A special “thank you” goes to our LRC Director, Jason Hancock, who advised us months ago of his intention to assume a new position with the Secretary of State in Idaho. He made special arrangements to see us through the 2020 Legislative Session and for that we are very thankful.

Today's proceedings are out of the ordinary for many reasons.

Presently, the world is in the throes of responding to a Pandemic as a result of the Novel Corona Virus now known as COVID-19.

In addition to the Pandemic and as a result of the Pandemic, we are meeting today via electronic technology with secure protocols.

Each one of us serving in the Legislature does so only upon the taking of an oath to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of South Dakota. I believe each of us take that very seriously.

In light of that oath we abide by the words and intent of those Constitutions. Today, we are faced with both interpretation and application of the words and intent of those Constitutions. In light of that duty, I, as Speaker of the House of Representatives, the presiding officer of the House, have set in motion certain procedures which I believe conform to that duty.

In the following analysis I will identify my position as to the matters to take place today and will, in my opinion, do so without deviating from the original intent of our Constitutional foundation.

The power of the Legislature is identified in Article III of the South Dakota Constitution. Our point of beginning for this analysis is found in:
Article III, Section 1 wherein our Constitution vests the Legislature with the inherent power to determine its own rules. Article III, Section 1 states in pertinent part: § 1. Legislative power-- Initiative and referendum. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a Legislature which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives.

Continuing with our Constitutional review we find in Article III, Section 9, paragraphs 2 and 3, which state in pertinent part, THE CATCH LINE BEING” § 9. Each house as judge of qualifications--Quorum--Rules of proceedings--Officers and employees. Each house shall be the judge of the election returns and qualifications of its own members.

Then continuing to the applicable words of that section:

A majority of the members of each house shall constitute a quorum, but a smaller number may adjourn from day-to-day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such a manner and under such penalty as each house may provide.

Each house shall determine the rules of its proceedings, shall choose its own officers and employees and fix the pay thereof, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution.

This particular House of Representatives determined its Rules of Proceedings and can revise its Rules of Proceedings.

I will focus my attention on the portion of Section 9 which states: “...and may compel the attendance of absent members in such a manner......as each house may provide.” Today, I believe we will have the necessary 2/3rds majority vote of our members to suspend our current rules to act on the issues coming before us and I believe that we will clarify with that 2/3rds majority that we shall convene the House “in such manner...as each House may provide”, that being via electronic means for today’s proceedings.

Article III, Section 7 states: § 7. Convening of annual sessions. The Legislature shall meet at the seat of government on the second Tuesday of January at 12 o’clock p.m. and at no other time except as provided by this Constitution. That is to convene the annual session.

Going back to Article III, Section 9, paragraph 3, this particular House of Representatives determined its Rules of Proceedings and can revise its Rules of Proceedings.

Other than the initial convening of the annual sessions, there is no specific constitutional requirement as to the place of meeting. Our Rules make reference to the "Chamber", but I will address that momentarily. The overriding principle of the Article III powers is that those powers vest in the Legislature itself. The Legislature exists whether the Capitol building in Pierre exists and whether that Capitol building is accessible by the members of the Legislature. For example, if the Capitol building suffered a structural failure, the Legislature would take necessary action to modify its rules and procedures to resume the functions of its office. Where would that be done? Presently, the physical structure of the Capitol is not reasonably accessible to many members of the Legislature due to the inherent risks of physical harm to those members or others with whom they will come into contact following their presence within the Capitol building in close proximity to others.

Practical application of the Rules of the Legislature include interpretation of our Joint Rule 2-2 which references “attendance” and the possibility of compelling attendance. The term “attendance” is not defined, but the common definition will presume an in-person presence.

However, with technology, there are various interpretations of “attendance”. An example found the Code of Federal Regulation (39 CFR, Section 6.4) even addresses the issue of electronic attendance under exceptional circumstances for a particular government entity. It says that in such exceptional circumstances, attendance at a meeting by this method (electronic attendance) constitutes “presence” at a meeting.

I will address our Legislative Rules:

JR 12-2: Voting Restrictions: The anomaly that exists today is that JR 12-2 states: "No member may vote on any question unless within the chamber and voting before the result of the voice is announced.” In consideration of the current declared Public Health Emergency as to the Novel Coronavirus Disease (COVID-19), and given that on March 13, 2020 the President of the United States has declared a National Emergency, the Secretary of Health and Human Services declared a public health emergency on January 31, 2020, and that the Governor of South Dakota has issued an Executive Order regarding COVID-19 and the recommended response to the health emergency, we are hereby left in a position of being unable to physically convene within the physical space known as the House Chamber in the Capitol building at Pierre, South Dakota without exposing members of the House of Representatives as well as members of the general public to enhanced dangers associated with the COVID-19 virus which is the subject of the declared public health emergency. However, our Constitution vests the Legislature with the inherent power to determine its own rules. Said authority is, as I stated before, granted in Article III, Section 1 which states in pertinent part: § 1. Legislative power--Initiative and referendum. The legislative power of the state shall be vested in a Legislature which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives. However, the people expressly reserve to themselves the right to propose measures, which shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of the state, and also the right to require that any laws which the Legislature may have enacted shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of the state before going into effect, except such laws as may be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, support of the state government and its existing public institutions. Not more than five percent of the qualified electors of the state shall be required to invoke either the initiative or the referendum.

This section shall not be construed so as to deprive the Legislature or any member thereof of the right to propose any measure. The veto power of the Executive shall not be exercised as to measures referred to a vote of the people. This section shall apply to municipalities. The enacting clause of all laws approved by vote of the electors of the state shall be: "Be it enacted by the people of South Dakota." The Legislature shall make suitable provisions for carrying into effect the provisions of this section.

The First line of Article III, Section 1 is the original foundational declaration of the existence and purpose of the Legislature. It is a clear and broad declaration that the power to legislate is vested in the Legislature which shall consist of a senate and house of representatives. At the time the Constitution was created there were no Rules of the Legislature. Until the first election of Legislators there were no legislators. There was merely a premise upon which a government would be established.

Each year as we convene for our legislative duties we are likewise without rules. We begin our annual Session without rules and quickly adopt the previous year’s rules on a temporary basis. We then proceed to adopt “permanent” rules, but those rules are subject to change at the discretion of the individual chamber. Today, I will ask the members to engage in a modification of our rules under extraordinary circumstances. Upon the agreement of 2/3rds of the members of the House of Representatives, we will proceed with our legislative duties.

An additional example of the Legislature’s ability to convene where and how they choose is evident in consideration of the “open meetings” laws. Arguably, we, as a Legislative body, are considered to be subject to the open meetings law whether any such meeting occurs in or out of the Capitol building. Thus, the fact of a meeting of Legislators is not dependent upon the place and manner of meeting.

LEGISLATURE’S POWER (Per the Constitution Article 3)

§ 29. Legislative powers in emergency from enemy attack. Notwithstanding any general or special provisions of the Constitution, in order to insure continuity of state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency resulting from disasters caused by enemy attack, the Legislature shall have the power and the immediate duty (1) to provide for prompt and temporary succession to the powers and duties of public offices, of whatever nature and whether filled by election or appointment, the incumbents of which may become unavailable for carrying on the powers and duties of such offices, and (2) to adopt such other measures as may be necessary and proper for insuring the continuity of governmental operations. In the exercise of the powers hereby conferred the Legislature shall in all respects conform to the requirements of this Constitution except to the extent that in the judgment of the Legislature so to do would be impracticable or would admit of undue delay.
The words contained in Article III, Section 29 contemplate an “enemy attack”. However, the principles contained in that section recognize that at the time of extraordinary events the Legislature will do all that it can to "...conform to the requirements of this Constitution except to the extent that in the judgment of the Legislature so to do would be impracticable or would admit of undue delay.”

One might consider the transmission of a pandemic virus to fit within this section if the “enemy” is considered the virus itself. However, reliance upon Article III, Section 1 is sufficient, especially in light of the import of the section 29 proviso that the Legislature will have to impose its own “judgment” under certain circumstances.

Many words in Article III, Section 29 are extremely broad and open to some speculation. The word “Notwithstanding” might mean that there is no restraint on the Legislature from any other part of the Constitution, or even this section itself as it is also a “special provision”. The Amendment of our Constitution with this section 29 came in 1959/1960 which was likely in response to the Cold War fear of nuclear annihilation. THEN, in section 29 the words “caused by” are broad enough to speculate about the origin of COVID-19. THEN, the word “hereby” is not necessarily talking about just section 29, but is talking about the entirety of the Constitution, which seems to be supported by the words “this Constitution” later in the sentence. FINALLY, I think the words “in the judgment of the Legislature so to do would be impracticable” extends the broad authority to the overall Legislative judgment. That might only be an observation to be applied in general terms, but the logic and intent is applied repeatedly in South Dakota Supreme Court decisions.

There is both specific South Dakota Supreme Court analysis and dicta which support the proposition that the actions, decisions, and judgment of the Legislature are presumed to be constitutional. In scanning through the hundreds of case summaries following Article III, Section 1, I found consistent references to legislative authority and in the case of Independent Community Bankers Association of South Dakota, Inc., v. State By and Through Meierhenry, 1984, 346 NW2d 737, the case is summarized in the case notes contained within our South Dakota Codified Law as follows: "Deference must be given to the People’s right to govern themselves through the legislature, and the courts should not supervise that process; the Supreme Court may step in only when legislature, beyond reasonable doubt, has overreached its constitutional boundaries, but otherwise the legislature’s power is plenary."

The word “plenary” is defined as: “Unqualified. Absolute.”

The existence of the Legislature is not dependent upon the existence of a particular building and the function of the Legislature is not dependent upon a particular place in which to cast a vote. To hold such a position would be to make the Legislature a fiction when circumstances, such as today, prevent the physical presence of members in a single geographical place. Circumstances entirely beyond the control of any member of the House of Representatives has forced this alteration of our assembly. Therefore, attendance by electronic means is the only manner in which to conduct the duties of this legislative body at this time.

I will proceed to ask the Clerk to call the roll of the members. However, I ask that any member who will raise a Point of Order as to the propriety of calling the roll do so at this time.

Rep. Pischke rose to a point of order to protest proceeding electronically.

I recognize the Point of Order and will ask the Clerk to proceed with the roll call after which I will ask for a vote of the members to support the Speaker in proceeding with today’s agenda.

I will also recognize that there are several members present in the physical chambers of the House of Representatives. Approximately 10 to 15 members. Is the Speaker supported in the decision to proceed with today’s legislative duties “in such a manner” as by electronic means?

Those supporting the Speaker’s decision will vote “yea”, those opposed “nay”, the Clerk will take the vote through the electronic voting system prepared for today.

The members choosing to file a Dissent pursuant to Joint Rule 1-10 shall do so prior to the end of our agenda today so that it may be entered upon the Journal of these proceedings. I will also say that I respect the position of these members to defend the Constitution and the Rules of the House of Representatives. I appreciate their willingness to assert their position.

I do not take lightly the decisions being made today, and I especially do not want there to be any presumption that this procedure is the preferred procedure. I do believe we need to address possible future issues with more refined rules and possibly revisions to our Constitution, but that is for another day.

Reps. Pischke and Brunner announced their intention to file a letter of dissent pursuant to Joint Rule 1-10.

and Petitions.

COMMUNICATIONS AND PETITIONS

Reps. Pischke and Brunner filed the following letter of dissent pursuant to Joint Rule 1-10.

DISSENT AND PROTEST

In accordance with Joint Rule 1-10, we, the undersigned Representatives, do hereby respectfully dissent from and protest against the rulings of the Speaker of the House of Representatives about the following:

1. That a quorum of the members of the House of Representatives is present, as required by Article III, Section 9, of the South Dakota Constitution;

2. That Article III, Section 29 of the South Dakota Constitution is appropriately invoked as justification for the business of the House of Representatives to be conducted without a quorum present; and

3. That two-thirds of the members-elect of the House of Representatives, as required under Joint Rule 11-1, are present within the chamber, as required under Joint Rule 12-2, in order to vote on the suspension of the following Joint Rules:

   a. Joint Rule 12-2; and
   b. Chapter 17 of the Joint Rules related to Legislative Deadlines.

Article III, Section 9 of the South Dakota Constitution provides that a "majority of the members of each house shall constitute a quorum." The Constitution does not contemplate anywhere in its language the use of electronic communication, either telephonically or through the internet, to allow the members of the House of Representatives to be counted as present for the purposes of the quorum requirement.
Furthermore, Article III, Section 29 of the South Dakota Constitution provides for certain powers of the Legislature "to insure continuity of state and local governmental operations in periods of emergency resulting from disasters caused by enemy attack," but neither the United States of America nor the State of South Dakota is under an enemy attack, nor has any official declaration of an enemy attack been made regarding the use of biological warfare to cause the current COVID-19 pandemic.

Furthermore, Joint Rule 12-2 of the Rules of the South Dakota Legislature provides, "No member may vote on any question unless within the chamber and voting before the result of the vote is announced." By ignoring the requirement that a member must be "within the chamber" in order for that member to vote on a question before the House of Representatives is to ignore the very rule that the body is being asked to suspend.

Without the presence of two-thirds of the members-elect of the House of Representatives, as required under Joint Rule 12-2, none of the rules of the Legislature may be suspended or amended in order to provide for the attendance and participation of the members of the House through electronic communication or to introduce new legislation after the deadline established under Chapter 17 of the Joint Rules.

We hereby dissent from and protest against the aforementioned rulings, and respectfully request that this dissent and protest be printed in the House Journal as required under Joint Rule 1-10.

Respectfully submitted,

Rep. Tom Pischke
Rep. Tina Mulally
Rep. Tony Randolph

Respectfully submitted,

Dear Heavenly Father:

You have been gracious to us. You have given us your word to guide us. You have given us your Son to Save us. You have been faithful when we have not. You have provided more than we deserve. In these uncertain times may those who do not know you find certainty in Jesus the rock of our salvation.

As this legislative season comes to a close it is with uncertainty for the future. Thank you that we can find peace in knowing that you reign over all the earth and that there is nothing too difficult for you. Your loving kindness is everlasting.

I ask for your protection upon each of the legislators and their families. That in a few months they could meet in person and give thanks for your goodness.

As the Psalmist says in Psalm 33:18-22:

Behold, the eye of the Lord is on those who fear Him,

On those who hope for His loving kindness,

To deliver their soul from death

And to keep them alive in famine.

Our soul waits for the Lord;

He is our help and our shield.

For our heart rejoices in Him,

Because we trust in His holy name.

Let Your loving kindness, O Lord, be upon us,

According as we have hoped in You.

Father, our hope is in you, our help and our shield – our Rock and our Salvation.

Amen.
