

ANNUAL REPORT 2022

SOUTH DAKOTA
Housing
DEVELOPMENT AUTHORITY

MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

TO THE GOVERNOR AND MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE

SD Housing is pleased to make this report available to highlight the many successes of fiscal year 2022, which could not have been accomplished without the guidance and support of the SDHDA Board of Commissioners, our staff and our partners. These collaborative efforts and strong partnerships are key to developing housing and implementing programs.

Thank you to all of our partners, both in the private and public sectors, that support our mission to increase housing stability by providing housing opportunities, promoting self-sufficiency and strengthening communities.

While continued supply chain issues, increased material costs and the recent rise in interest rates are impacting affordable housing and adding challenges to an already complex industry, following are some our highlights.

📁 Sales for the Governor's House and DakotaPlex programs continued at record high levels.

📁 The single family housing market remained strong in 2022 for both new home builds and sales of existing homes. Limited availability of homes impacted the purchase price, however the low fixed rate financing provided by the homeownership programs provided $421 million for funding mortgage loans.

📁 On September 21, 2022, SD Housing received Moody's rating of Aaa, the best quality rating to the Homeownership Mortgage Bonds.

📁 The idea that we have youth in South Dakota who are homeless or facing housing instability is unacceptable, which is why we were excited to be awarded the Youth Homeless Demonstration Program, working with youth and service providers to provide the services to assist the youth in addressing their needs and provide stability for the future.

📁 We appreciated the opportunity to return to in person events by providing the annual housing conference, lender trainings, and homeless summit. These events provide educational and networking opportunities.

📁 To keep families in their homes amid the pandemic, SD Housing and partner agencies administered the Emergency Rental Assistance and Homeowner Assistance Fund programs, providing close to $25 million in assistance.

The impact of these programs and more, are detailed in this year's annual report. You'll see the day-to-day impact our many partners have on South Dakotans. We are proud of what we have achieved together but much progress is still needed throughout our state as communities move into 2023. We look forward to the challenges of the coming year and the impact we can make together to strengthen the quality of life for all South Dakotans. We remain committed to fulfilling our mission of providing affordable housing and innovative solutions and we hope you will join us in creating meaningful opportunities and solutions in the years to come.

There is nothing like the feeling of calling something your own. South Dakota Housing focuses on giving that opportunity to many South Dakotans through our homeownership programs. South Dakota Housing offers benefits for first-time and repeat homebuyers from homebuyer education to downpayment and closing cost assistance.

Before the big purchase, homebuyers can go into the process with knowledge and an understanding of the process and responsibilities, thanks to the Homeownership Education Resource Organization (HERO). Due to the financial support from South Dakota Housing, HERO provides free and practical education to future homeowners. In the last fiscal year, South Dakota Housing expanded the network of HERO providers giving more than 2,600 homebuyers access to this free education.

Becoming a homeowner this past year required patience. The shortage of available housing created record high appreciation rates and purchase prices greater than appraised values.

HOMEOWNERSHIP PROGRAMS

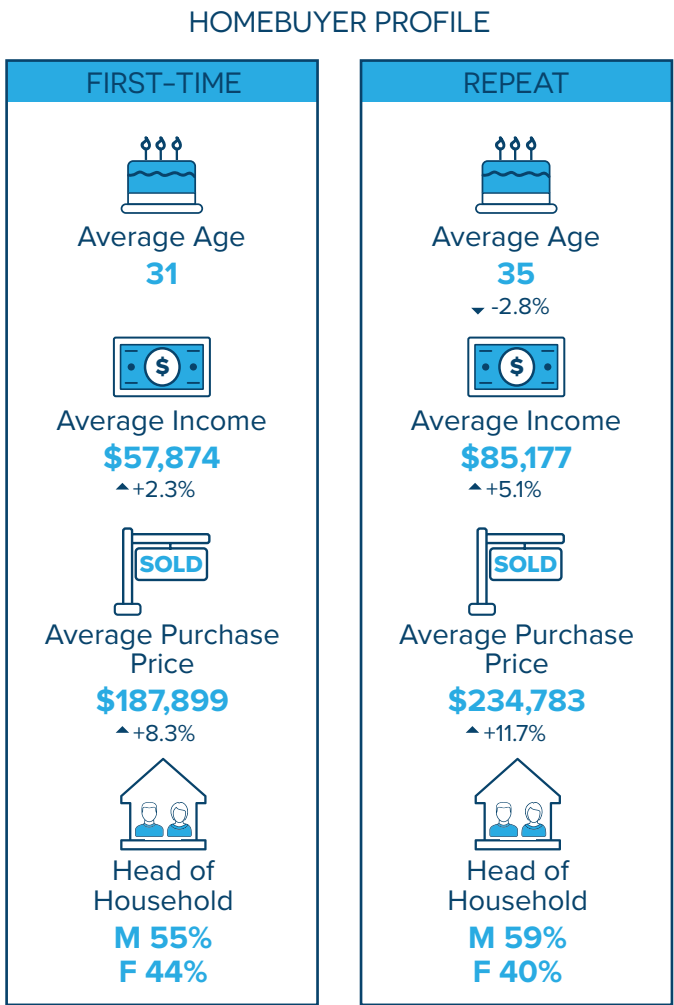

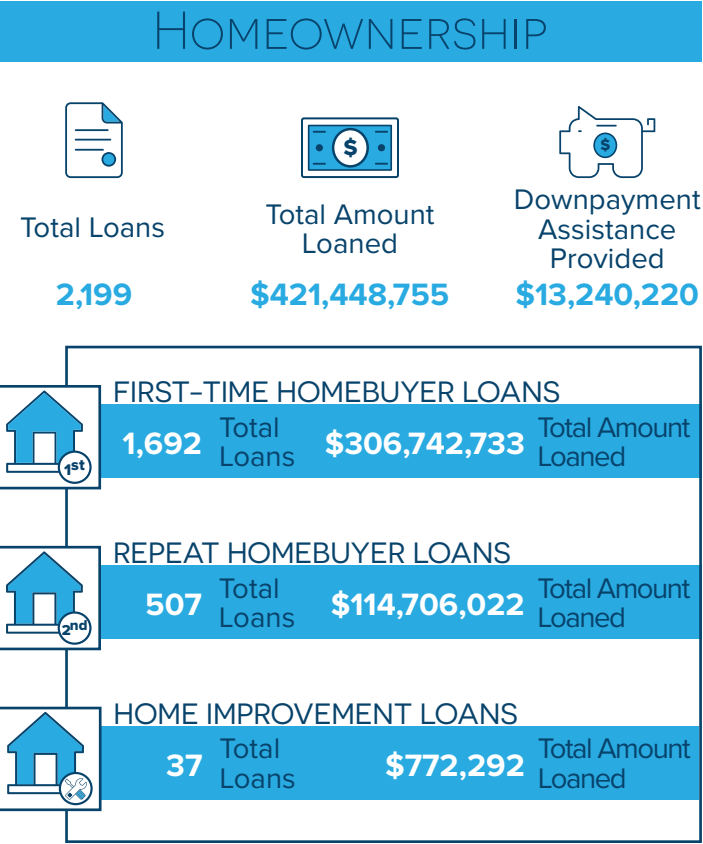

The increase in the First-time Homebuyer purchase price limit from $300,000 to $340,000 and the increase in the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's median family income for South Dakota from $75,500 to $85,400, allowed potential homebuyers to compete for home purchases.

In South Dakota Housing's production, the average purchase price for homes in Sioux Falls was $229,379 in FY 2022, an increase of 14 percent from FY 2021 and in Rapid City, the average purchase price was $225,355, an increase of 16 percent over FY 2021. Overall, the average purchase price increased 8.3 percent for the first-time homebuyers and 11.7 percent for repeat homebuyers, while the average income only increased 2.3 percent and 5.1 percent, respectively.

In South Dakota Housing's production, the average age for homes purchased by first time homebuyers was 64 and the average age of homes purchased by repeat homebuyers was 50, both increases of 14 percent from 2021. To help with this aging stock, South Dakota Housing provided 37 loans at 2.9% for borrowers to fix up their single family home through the Community Home Improvement Loan program.

Since 1973, South Dakota Housing has helped more than 93,000 homebuyers with their home purchase. Helping these homeowners stay in their homes became more of a focus with the COVID-19 foreclosure moratorium that was lifted July 31, 2021. With many homeowners facing substantial mortgage payments coming due, South Dakota Housing launched the Homeowner Assistance Fund (HAF), funded through the American Rescue Plan Act. HAF funding is utilized to prevent mortgage defaults, foreclosures, loss of utilities and displacement of homeowners experiencing financial hardship. January 2022, U.S. Treasury approved South Dakota Housing's HAF plan allowing applicants to apply for assistance.

In this coming year, market changes will require us to continually evaluate our products and programs. South Dakota Housing remains committed to working with our families to give them this opportunity of homeownership.

SINGLE FAMILY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

With tight housing markets and continued appreciation in home values, the Governor’s House program continues to be a go to program. Many families desire to have the energy efficient, high-quality and affordable home and FY 2022 was another successful year with 140 home sales.

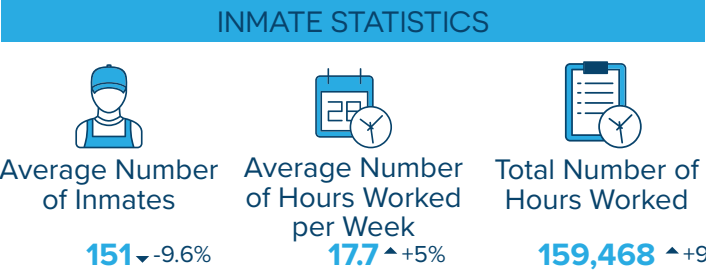

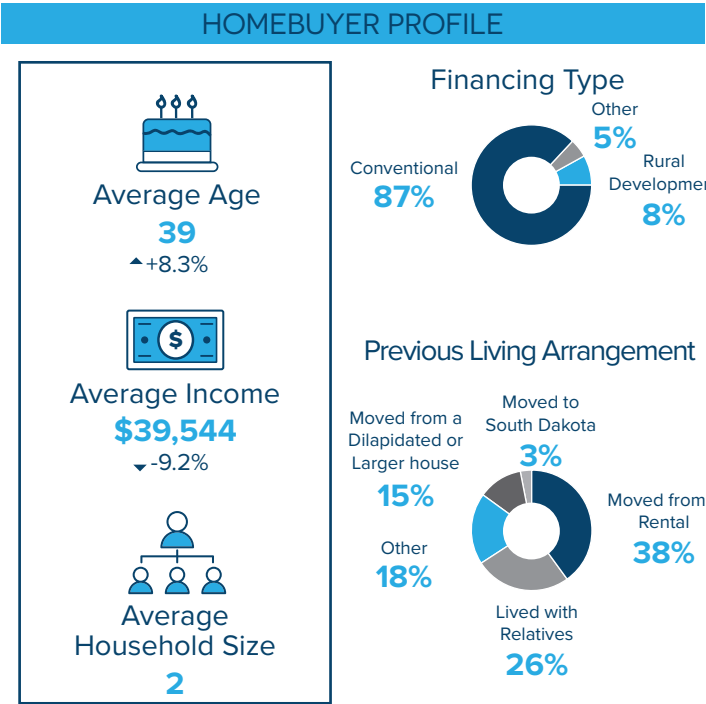

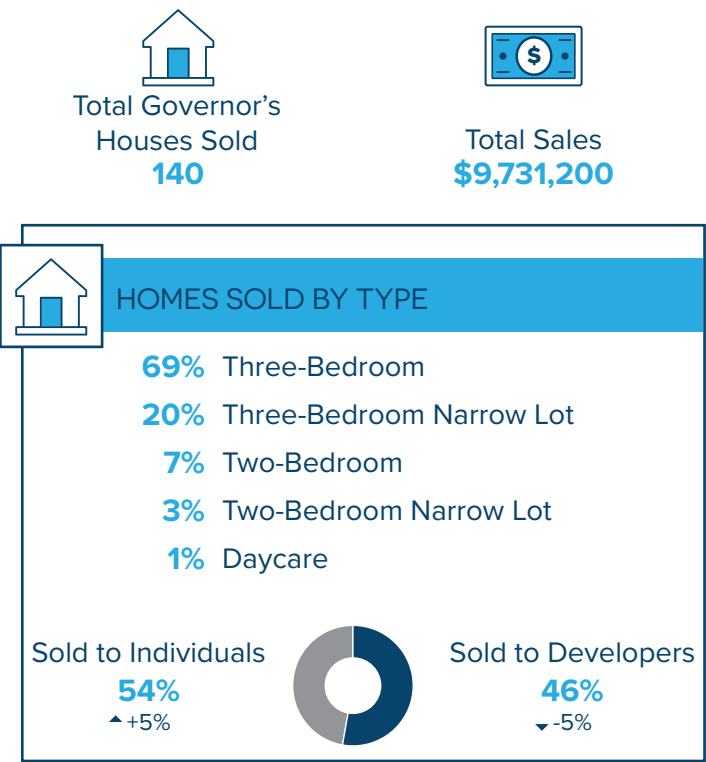

While supply chain disruptions and reduced workforce have delayed the production schedule, there are still many highlights to share and South Dakota Housing will continue to adjust as needed.

In FY 2022, five inmate apprentices graduated the Home Builders Institute. The Governor’s House program also currently has four plumbing and eight electrical apprentices. Inmates choose to participate in the programs, providing them the opportunity to learn new skills on the job site and in the classroom, preparing them for future job opportunities.

The BuildSpec Loan Program also provides an opportunity to spur housing development. South Dakota Housing in partnership with South Dakota Home Builders Association, provides low interest rate construction financing for contractors building spec homes. In FY 2022, four builders participated building spec homes in the communities of Rapid City, Deadwood and Belle Fourche.

The DakotaPlex, which originated from the Governor’s House program, continues to provide affordable rental opportunities for targeted communities. Introduced in 2019, the DakotaPlex serves that niche for communities with populations under 5,000. Eighteen DakotaPlex units were sold in FY 2022, an increase of 50 percent from 2021.

SINGLE FAMILY DEVELOPMENT

The development of new housing and rehabilitation of existing housing is vital in meeting a community's demand. South Dakota Housing administers a number of programs to encourage and assist in the development of housing – affordable for a variety of incomes.

Twenty-three communities learned first-hand what it takes to keep their communities vibrant when they participated in the Housing Needs Study program. Many of those communities have begun the process of addressing their key housing issues such as rehabilitating existing housing, demolishing dilapidated structures and expanding homeownership and rental opportunities.

After two years of the pandemic, significant supply chain issues and construction labor shortages continued to prolong the timeline of finishing affordable housing developments. In August, South Dakota Housing's commissioners declared an emergency due to the pandemic allowing developers with buildings not yet placed in service the ability to apply for additional funding to maintain feasibility.

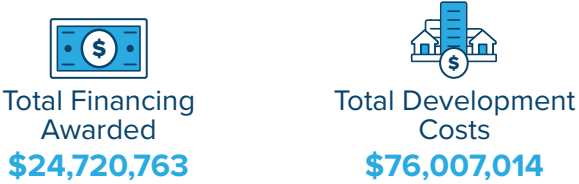

In September, developers who needed additional funding to make projects feasible were eligible to receive remaining Coronavirus Relief Funds (CRF) from the State of South Dakota. Due to funding parameters of the CRF funds, the use of CRF funds was not feasible in every financing gap, so in November, South Dakota Housing's commissioners provided additional HOME funding and Housing Tax Credits to fill the funding gaps.

Expanding housing opportunities can strengthen a community and this is possible with funding from South Dakota Housing's numerous development programs – the Housing Opportunity Fund, Housing Tax Credits, HOME Investment Partnership Program, Housing Trust Fund, and the Community Housing Development Program. Thirty-eight developments and ten programs were funded in FY 2022, creating or renovating 592 housing units and benefiting 135 families with program assistance. The projects consist of new construction or renovation of single family homes and multifamily units, homelessness prevention, and homebuyer assistance. These projects will serve a variety of households earning at or below 115 percent to 30 percent of the area median incomes.

More than 44 communities will benefit from FY 2022 funding addressing housing now and into the future.

In addition to South Dakota Housing's Community Housing Development Program for infrastructure financing, the state legislature passed House Bill 1033, in response to the workforce housing needs across South Dakota. The bill provides $150 million of state general funds and $50 million American Rescue Plan funds for the construction of housing infrastructure. South Dakota Housing was grateful to have the support of the legislature, developers and others in the industry to get this bill funded.

MULTIFAMILY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMS

MULTIFAMILY
MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS

Development of new housing and rehabilitation of existing housing is important, but so is the ongoing safety and affordability of those existing properties. South Dakota Housing’s management department’s role is to routinely inspect the housing units and monitor operating procedures to maintain compliance with federally funded program requirements. South Dakota Housing staff conducted 214 management reviews, 229 physical reviews and approved 254 rent adjustments in FY 2022.

Multifamily housing units are an important part of affordable housing and their long term success hinges on the commitment and dedication of property owners and managers. South Dakota Housing works hard to provide a variety of tools to help them be successful including education, oversight, marketing assistance and overall guidance.

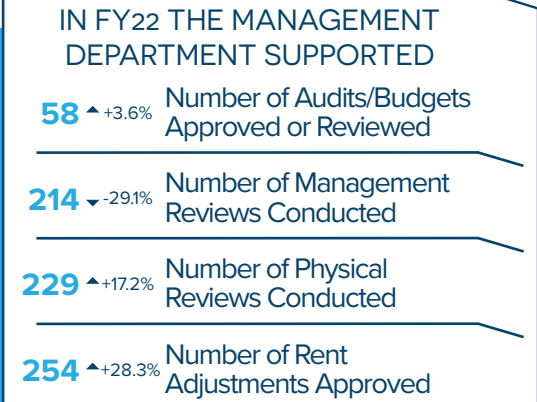

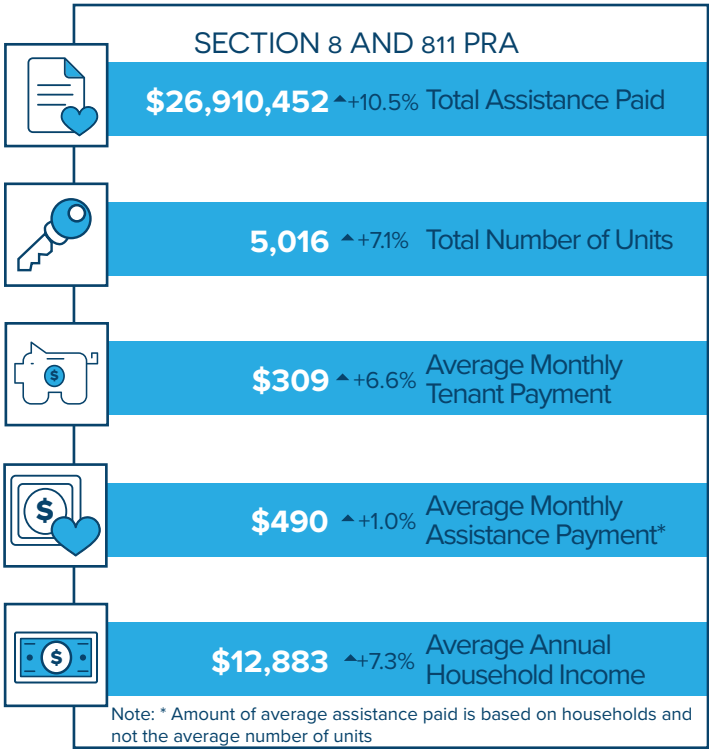

If a development receives a unsatisfactory review, SD Housing staff work diligently with the owner to address concerns. Some corrective actions may include requiring new ownership or management, financing necessary renovations or helping to restructure the financing.

South Dakota Housing received an outstanding rating for its Housing and Urban Development (HUD) review of its performance based contract. Performance Based Contract Administrators (PBCAs) are HUD’s primary providers for overseeing compliance, renewing rental contracts and managing tenant interactions.

The pandemic also affected the ongoing management of existing multifamily housing. Federal interventions, like ERA and the CARES Act Supplemental Operating Funds, helped property owners respond to COVID-19. Treasury’s ERA program provided direct payments to landlords on the applicant’s behalf if they were not financially able to cover their past due or current rent. The COVID-19 Supplemental Payments (CSP) for Section 8, Section 202, and Section 811 properties helped owners incurring additional operational costs during the pandemic to maintain their properties in decent, safe, and sanitary conditions. Thirty-eight properties received close to $200 thousand in CSP funding for operational costs.

Even though the rental supply is low and rental prices and occupancy rates continue to increase, South Dakota Housing’s management department will continue to work to make sure that the almost 12,000 units and the close to 400 developments provide a suitable place to call home. Renters can rest easy knowing that because of the various affordable housing programs, rents are controlled and remain affordable.
