RE: SD Board of Regents annual report on intellectual diversity and free exchange of ideas

Dear Governor Noem and Legislators,

This correspondence is in furtherance of the Board of Regents' compliance with SDCL § 13-53-53 (Section 5 of HB 1087 from the 2019 Legislative Session), which took effect on July 1st, and requires the Board of Regents, on or before December first of each year, to prepare and submit to the Governor and each member of the legislature a report that:

- (1) Sets forth all actions taken by each institution to promote and ensure intellectual diversity and the free exchange of ideas; and
- (2) Describes any events or occurrences that impeded intellectual diversity and the free exchange of ideas.

Consequently, this first report period runs from July 1, 2019 – October 31, 2019, with subsequent years' reports spanning November 1st – October 31st.

The sum and substance of HB 1087, which is now codified in SDCL §§ 13-53-49 to 13-53-53, centered on freedom of expression, with "intellectual diversity" mentioned only in definition and the above-referenced reporting requirement. As such, the initial focus of the Board of Regents, and its institutions, was ensuring compliance with the statutory requirements related to freedom of expression, which isn't to dismiss the intellectual diversity aspect of the legislation, but rather to explain the rationale for the Board's initial prioritization.

Much like the Legislature's use of statute(s) to carry out its will, as the Constitutional body charged with control of the public university system, policy is the foundation from which the Board directs its institutions and all operations flow. To that end, the Board of Regents took expeditious action to create and/or amend policy to explicitly address the statutory requirements imposed by the passage of HB 1087. The attached report details the numerous changes to Board Policy resulting therefrom, which include amendments to BOR Policies 1:32 (Commitment to Freedom of Expression) and 3:18 (Recognition and Funding of Student Organizations), and the creation of BOR Policy 6:13:1 (Use of Institutional Facilities and Grounds for Expressive Activity by Student Organizations, Students, Employees, and their Guests), all of which were approved for implementation at the Board's August meeting, the first Board meeting after the law took effect. Additionally, the report reflects various actions taken by individual campuses to adjust local policy to ensure the requisite guidance at the campus level to fully comply with state law and Board policy.

With that said, a policy that is not effectively carried out and/or enforced is relatively worthless. To that end, the campuses have focused significant efforts on training and outreach relevant to the changes brought about by HB 1087. As outlined in the report, these efforts have centered not only on educating and informing the relevant constituencies on the applicable authority, but also on ensuring mechanisms for bringing forward complaints stemming from misapplication of policy are readily apparent and accessible by those most likely to be impacted by any such misapplication, increasing the probability that issues will be brought to light in a timely fashion, affording the campuses an opportunity to remedy any deficiencies at the point of need.

In addition to the actions taken to date, the report notes various initiatives which are planned for the coming year. One such initiative that is currently in the works, and of particular importance to the Board, is the implementation of a common survey to gauge and assess the respective campus environments relevant to freedom of expression and intellectual diversity. The intent of the survey is not only to provide a mechanism to gauge the current campus landscape, which will be used as a baseline upon which progress can be measured moving forward, but also to identify areas of concern which may otherwise go unreported for one reason or another. The survey will be delivered to students in the spring of 2020 and the results will be provided to the Governor and each member of the Legislature in the Board's 2020 report. The timing of the survey was driven primarily by the desire to ensure first year students had at least one full semester of interaction on campus on which to base their responses.

As to ensuring and promoting intellectual diversity on our campuses, the Board and its institutions are in the midst of assessing and evaluating both the current campus environment and potential vehicles for enhancing intellectual diversity on campus. Much like the Board's engagement with external constituencies to inform its way forward with respect to best practices on policies pertaining to free speech, the Board and its campuses have received input from stakeholders across the country who have proposed a myriad of ideas for enhancing intellectual diversity on our campuses, some which may have a better fit in South Dakota than others.

I trust you will find the Board and campus actions to date clear evidence of compliance with, and a commitment to, the requirements and principles of HB 1087. As we move into this next year of development and an increasingly active implementation of initiatives to enhance free speech and intellectual diversity on campus, several opportunities are developing. These are just a few examples. The Provosts at each of the six universities are working together to create several minors that focus on the traditions and history of American democracy and that promote opportunities for engaging in intellectually diverse discussions across a range of topics. Each University President is committed to developing a program of university sponsored speakers and programs that cover a gamut of intellectually diverse subjects. These could be developed from any number of themes and topics that have currency and relevance for our students and that promote serious thought about a wide range of subjects that focus on democratic principles. Collectively, all presidents, administration, faculty, and staff want what is best for our students—a vibrant learning community that allows ideas to have a fair hearing and then debate the legitimacy and worth of those ideas.

In closing, there is still much to be done, and we have no intention of sitting idle, content with the accomplishments to date, but rather to strive to continue improving and serve as a model for others to emulate.

Collegially,

Annual Report on Intellectual Diversity and Free Exchange of Ideas

(July 1, 2019 – October 31, 2019)

(1) Actions taken by each institution to promote and ensure intellectual diversity and the free exchange of ideas.

The following actions were taken by each of BHSU, DSU, NSU, SDSM&T, SDSU and USD:

- Policies and procedures were reviewed and updated to ensure compliance with SDCL §§ 13-53-49 to 15-53-53, inclusive (HB 1087). In addition to any campus specific policy changes referenced below, the following Board of Regent (“BOR”) policies, which are applicable to each institution, were amended/implemented in consultation with the relevant campus constituencies to carry out the requirements/objectives of HB 1087.
 - BOR Policy 1:32 (Commitment to Freedom of Expression) was amended at the BOR’s August 2019 meeting to reflect the definition (Section 1) and reporting requirements (Section 5) set forth in HB1087 (SDCL 13-53-53);
 - BOR Policy 6:13:1 (Use of Institutional Facilities and Grounds for Expressive Activity by Student Organizations, Students, Employees, and their Guests) was approved at the BOR’s August 2019 meeting to address the requirements pertaining to expressive activity in outdoor areas on campus set forth in Section 3 of HB 1087 (SDCL 13-53-51); and
 - BOR Policy 3:18 (Recognition and Funding of Student Organizations) was amended at the BOR’s August 2019 meeting to implement the necessary changes pertaining to students and student organizations set forth in Section 4 of HB 1087 (SDCL 13-53-52).
- The universities, working in concert with the BOR and staff, are pursuing a consistent student survey to be administered spring 2020, and each spring thereafter, to assess the climate and culture on each campus with respect to intellectual diversity and the free exchange of ideas. The survey will contain a block of questions specific to intellectual diversity and the free exchange of ideas on campus, both inside and outside the classroom, which will serve as the baseline to gauge the current environment on campus, and any changes thereto in subsequent years. The results of the survey will be included in future reports to the Legislature.
- Each campus ensured, and promoted, the existence of a published complaint process for any aggrieved student(s) and/or student organization(s), to include posting a “freedom in learning” statement on course syllabi. The freedom in learning statement, in summary, states that student academic performance shall be evaluated solely on an academic basis and students should be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study. In the event a student believes their academic evaluation reflects prejudiced or capricious consideration of student opinions or conduct unrelated to academic standards, the process to initiate a review/appeal of the evaluation is identified.

- The universities compiled a list of speakers invited to campus, which is set forth in Attachment I.
- Campuses are pursuing avenues to better promote speakers coming to campus, both for internal and external campus communities.

In addition to the foregoing, the following actions were taken by the respective campuses.

BHSU

- BHSU is currently creating one comprehensive Policy and Procedure Manual for BHSU to be widely accessible through its location on the university website. The foregoing will pull together all policies by division and include forms or other procedural information to implement the policy. Wherever holes are identified, including those related to HB 1087, BHSU will create campus level policy to cover the missing area and/or provide the necessary detail to effectively administer the subject matter at the campus level.
- BHSU reviewed the Student Code of Conduct and the Posting Guidelines to reflect the language suggested by legal counsel at the BOR office.
- In addition to the comprehensive student survey to be administered by all campuses, BHSU will also administer the following surveys:
 - The Ruffalo Noel Levitz Student Satisfaction survey (November, 2019)
 - Employee satisfaction survey (Spring 2020)
- BHSU is planning intellectual diversity and freedom of speech training for all faculty and students spring semester 2020.
- Student Affairs continually reviews all of its policies, to include review and incorporation of best practices, which as it pertains to free speech issues, includes communicating with and monitoring guidance from the Foundation for Individual Rights in Education (“FIRE”) on the topic.
- Academic Affairs continues to review higher education reform recommendations, to include those outlined by Heterodox Academy, the National Association of Scholars, and American Council of Trustees and Alumni and the Claremont Institute.
- BHSU held two AASCU-sponsored American Democracy Projects:
 - Voter registration:
 - Student Senate registered voters on National Voter Registration Day (Sept. 24) in the Student Union.

- BHSU submitted its NSLVE data to the ALL IN Campus Democracy Challenge, and our voter participation was up significantly in 2018 compared to 2014.
 - On Constitution Day (September 17th), political themed trivia questions were posted on the Political Sciences bulletin board, with prizes offered to those answering correctly.
- Congressman Dusty Johnson hosted a forum for students on September 6, 2019 to discuss renewal of the higher education bill, federal financial aid, college debt and other areas of interest to students.

DSU

- Campus administration discussed the issue and need to better promote intellectual diversity in the mandatory all-faculty meeting on August 20.
- Campus administration discussed intellectual diversity and reporting requirements at meeting of campus deans on September 10.
- Campus administration discussed intellectual diversity and reporting requirements at meeting of campus diversity committee on September 11.
- Sponsored a booth in the Trojan Center and the Student Senate shared information about Constitution Day on Sept. 17.
- Created an International Flag display during the fall 2019 semester such that International students enrolled at DSU are represented by their country flag. Interesting facts and trivia for each country was displayed on the monitors in the Trojan Center.
- DSU added two items to its Ruffalo Noel Levitz Student Satisfaction Inventory to be administered in the spring semester addressing intellectual diversity:
 - Faculty respect my viewpoints.
 - Faculty present diverse perspectives in course materials.
- Renewed publication of the DSU Faculty Handbook to include a section on free speech, freedom in learning and professional ethics and will include the following statement:

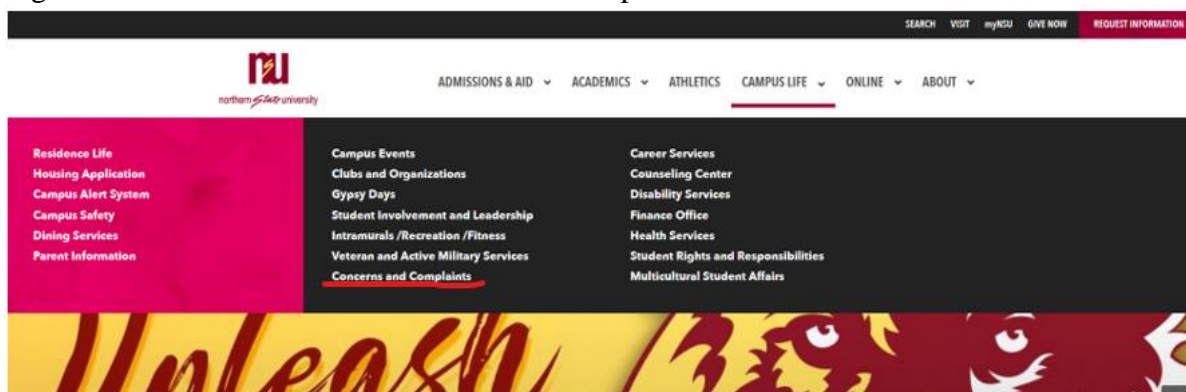

To secure student freedom in learning, faculty members in the classroom and in seminar should encourage free and orderly discussion, inquiry and expression of the course subject matter. Student performance may be evaluated solely on an academic basis, not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards. Students should be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the content of any course of study for which they are enrolled.
- DSU is in the process of revising policies and incident reporting structures related to free speech, to include reviewing its status and best practices material on the FIRE website.

NSU

SDSU

South Dakota State University (SDSU) is committed to upholding the First Amendment. During the 2019 legislative session, legislation was passed to clarify First Amendment protections on University campuses and promote intellectual diversity. As a result, SDSU increased efforts to promote First Amendment rights and addressed intellectual diversity in a variety of ways.

Review of Policies: New or Revised University Policies

SDSU’s Office of General Counsel reviewed policies and procedures at SDSU to ensure alignment with all revised SDBOR Policies and applicable SD and federal laws. Consideration was given to FIRE feedback on SDSU Policies to move them to a green light under FIRE’s criteria. Policies have been vetted through our shared governance structure and with the campus community prior to their adoption.

Summary of Campus Climate Assessment

Beginning in spring 2017, SDSU implemented a new, nationally normed Campus Climate assessment through Skyfactor for employees and students. SDSU established a Campus Climate Committee to select the assessment tool to be utilized, review results, and publish the annual report on Campus Climate. The University committed to administering this assessment every two years, going to university employees and currently enrolled students, with the next administration scheduled for spring 2021. The second administration was completed in spring 2019, with the final quantitative report released the week of September 23, 2019 and the final qualitative report released the week of October 21, 2019. The assessment measures Campus Climate from a variety of factors, is anonymous in nature, and does include questions related to the first amendment. While proprietary information is not disclosable, a summary report of the Campus Climate results is currently under review by SDSU leadership.

Complaint Reporting Practices

SDSU has validated that it maintains reporting protocols for a variety of situations, depending on the concern raised. In addition, the process for investigation varies based upon employment relationship, conduct reported, and student status. Beginning in fall 2019, SDSU added “Freedom of Expression/ Intellectual Diversity” as a report/complaint category in its online anonymous reporting portal, Lighthouse.

Also beginning in fall 2019, The Rabbit Report, a weekly student publication sent to all students from the SDSU Students’ Association while classes are in session, includes a reporting section with links to reporting procedures for a variety of concerns, including anonymous reporting options. In addition, the monthly HR Newsletter sent electronically to all SDSU employees includes information on how to report concerns, including anonymous reporting options. Below, in the Existing Resources & Policies section, a comprehensive list of reporting protocols is provided.

Academic and Other Activities

Course syllabi are required by SDSU Course Syllabus Policy 2:3 to have the following statement included and this was communicated during this period:

Freedom in Learning Statement: Students are responsible for learning the content of any course of study in which they are enrolled. Under Board of Regents and University policy, student academic performance shall be evaluated solely on an academic basis and students should be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any courses of study. Students who believe that an academic evaluation is unrelated to academic standards but is related instead to judgment of their personal opinion or conduct should first contact the instructor of the course. If the student remains unsatisfied, the student may contact the Department Head, Dean, or both, of the college which offers the class to initiate a review of the evaluation.

SDSU validated that it offers the System General Education Requirements (SGRs) courses in communication, mathematics, and sciences. There is an array of elective courses within the requirements for Social Sciences and Arts and Humanities, which provide an awareness of the histories and psycho-social, economic, and political structures, as well as an understanding of the contributions of diverse cultures. Course offerings to meet the Social Sciences elective include, but are not limited to, American Indian Studies, Anthropology, Human Geography, United States History, American Government, American Political Issues, Political Ideologies, State and Local Government, and Sociology of Rural America. Course offerings to meet the Arts and Humanities elective include, but are not limited to, American Indian Studies, World Civilization, Western Civilization, Lakota, Gospels, and Rise of American Indian Activism.

SDSU is currently researching, reviewing, and exploring, through its Campus Climate Committee, the Heterodox Academy and its Open Mind Tool.

USD

Complaint/Reporting Process

USD has made its concerns and complaints form more prevalent and accessible by embedding it into the newly developed Coyote One Stop, which is found on the quick links feature on the home page. We also added a specific identifier for intellectual diversity complaints. Coyote One Stop is a new web-based resource for students to find answers to a multitude of questions. We are constantly updating the articles for students to use to find answers to questions themselves, but they can also ask a question to our staff or raise a concern, and it will be entered and tracked by our software program.

Students, faculty and staff were made aware of the new Coyote One Stop system through several avenues, including the following:

- Emails;
- Posters;
- Information desk in MUC;
- Table tents and napkin holders in the MUC;
- Aviso story;
- Portal announcement; and
- Digital signage – MUC, Beacom, University Housing.

Policy Updates

USD has reaffirmed its commitment to the ALA Library Bill of Rights in a revised Library Use Policy. The ALA Library Bill of Rights rejects censorship and encourages the exchange of diverse ideas through library resources and access.

USD has also revised its Solicitation, Poster and Community Living Policies with additional policy review and revision underway.

On Campus Training and Discussion Events

- Mandatory student orientation about Free Speech and Intellectual Diversity for all incoming first-year students;
- Free Speech and Intellectual Diversity Forum (open to all campus) with approximately 300 in person and online participants – September 6, 2019;
- Free Speech and Intellectual Diversity Forum at the Community College for Sioux Falls – October 22, 2019;
- Free Speech and Intellectual Diversity Training for Senior Student Services Staff – summer retreat and a follow up discussion at a September staff meeting;
- Free Speech and Intellectual Diversity training for University Housing Staff;
- Free Speech and Intellectual Diversity campus-wide Lunch and Learn –October 24, 2019;
- Constitution Day Speaker – Topic: “Free Speech and Modernity: One Hundred Years of the First Amendment” by Greg Magarian;
- Free Speech and Intellectual Diversity Forum hosted by Student Government Association – scheduled for November 7, 2019;
- Ensuring all course syllabi include Freedom of Learning statement;

- Campus wide speaker series – The USD Office for Diversity has identified several conservative academics and is in the process of securing one for a campus visit during the spring semester. Activities will include an open lecture for all students, faculty and staff as well as individual classroom visits.

Other Efforts

USD, as part of its strategic planning process, has been reaching out to stakeholders across the state and region to discuss how we should move forward in general, but have also included discussions about intellectual diversity in those discussions.

USD general counsel engaged directly with FIRE to review remaining yellow light policies and discussed language that can be incorporated to move the policies to the green light category.

Associate Vice President for Diversity is now a member of the Heterodox Academy.

Dr. Jon Lauck, who is housed on campus as the editor of the Middle West Review journal, will develop and offer a seminar in the University Honors Program during the 2019-2020 academic that will focus on the Midwestern Political Tradition, Conservative Political Thought, or some blending of those two topics.

(2) Events or occurrences that impeded intellectual diversity and the free exchange of ideas, or complaints received by campuses.

Attachment II aggregates the complaints filed, broken down by institution and complainant status. The details related to the complaints referenced therein are set forth below.

BHSU

- An individual emailed the Honors College Office expressing concern over the fact that some students were required to attend a specific event "Sex Ed Boot Camp". This matter was turned over to the VP for Student Affairs who did the follow up correspondence. While some classes required attendance at Common Read events, none required students to attend that specific event. There may have been a participation requirement for student athletes.

DSU

- University received an informal complaint from an alumna concerning what she perceived to be an "anti-Muslim" post on a professor's blog. The provost looked into the matter and concluded the professor's blog post did not violate any DSU/BOR policy and that it constituted protected speech under the First Amendment. The professor was notified of the complaint and informed of the provost's determination regarding the same.

NSU

- None during the report period.

SDSM&T

- A student voiced a concern that he may potentially become uncomfortable in an unidentified course due to conflicting opinions with the instructor. The student requested information on how to deal with the issue should he wish to file a formal complaint in the future, should the student actually become uncomfortable in the class. The student was informed of the complaint policy and the next steps the student could take, though no complaint has been filed to date.

SDSU

- An alumna expressed concerns regarding a planned event with PragerU. The Director of University Marketing and Communications responded to the complaint by informing the alumna that the event was sponsored by University-recognized student organizations, and by explaining that the University supports an environment where individuals can have an exchange of different ideas, thoughts, opinions and beliefs.
- Student complaint that faculty member interfered with speech by stifling political speech in classroom. Currently under review.

USD

- Informal complaint (Tweet to President Gestring) from Yotes for Life regarding chalking on campus. Possible policy violations were reviewed by the president and general counsel. No violation was found.
- A USD student complained about alleged statements and course material in ANTH/NATV 331 – Native Cultures in North America, which the student perceived to be disrespectful to Native culture and beliefs. The student was not enrolled in the class. There were no concerns raised by students enrolled in the class in question. The student also objected to the fact that Professor David Posthumus was invited to present research on Native spirituality in Germany, as the student claimed that ritual practices should never be discussed outside of their own communities. The student was informed of the process by which enrolled students are able to file grievances and the concerns were shared with the appropriate administrators on campus. The complaint deemed not meritorious, as Dr. Posthumus's presentation of the material in question was consistent with his educational background and expertise in the field and is protected by the principles of academic freedom and free inquiry.
