STATEMENT OF THE PROCEEDINGS

On October 20, 2023, the Honorable Kristi Noem, 33rd Governor of the State of South Dakota, invoked the authority vested in her office by Article V, Section 5 of the South Dakota Constitution to seek an Advisory Opinion on a series of questions involving the exercise of her executive power and proper application of the Contracts Clause of Article III, Section 12.

This request was occasioned by immediate and profound concern raised by executive actions, and the prospect of additional executive action, to enforce various perceived interpretations of the Contracts Clause—about which there is substantial misconception and disagreement—presently casting a shadow of uncertainty across the spectrum of state government. In addition, there currently are at least two pending vacancies in the Legislature, for which the Governor has appointment authority under Article III, Section 10, that may be affected by the lifting of those clouds.

The Governor's request was supported by Representative Hugh Bartels, Speaker of the House, and Senator Lee Schoenbeck, President Pro
Tempore of the Senate, and Attorney General Marty Jackley

On October 31, 2023, this Court entered its order directing the Governor, Attorney General, and Legislature to submit briefs addressing: (1) whether the Governor's request meets the standard for advisory opinions; and (2) the merits of the questions presented.

ARGUMENT

I. BECAUSE THEY RELATE TO HER EXECUTIVE POWERS, THIS COURT SHOULD PROVIDE GUIDANCE ON THE ISSUES RAISED BY THE GOVERNOR'S IMPORTANT AND SOLEMN REQUEST.

Article V, Section 5 provides that "[t]he Governor has authority to require opinions of the Supreme Court upon important questions of law involved in the exercise of [her] executive power and upon solemn occasions." As this Court has explained, this provision "enlarged the usual jurisdiction and duties of the judges of the South Dakota Supreme Court by adding a unique and important proceeding devoid of the usual indica of judicial proceedings." In re Daugaard, 2016 S.D. 27, ¶4, 884 N.W.2d 163, 165; In re Construction of Constitution, 54 N.W. 650, 651 (S.D. 1893).

In 2020, this Court provided advisory guidance regarding the scope of Article III, Section 12. See In re Noem, 2020 S.D. 58, 950 N.W.2d 678. This Court held that the question presented raised an important question of law involved in the exercise of the Governor's executive power because her administration of federal Covid relief funds would "result in immediate consequences having an impact on the institutions of state government" and involved a question "that cannot be answered expeditiously through usual adversary proceedings." Id. ¶9, 950 N.W.2d at 680-81.

The same is true here, only in greater magnitude. As the Governor explained: "[T]hese important questions of law are connected to my executive power to overseeing the faithful execution of, adherence to, and restraining violations of Article III, Section 12 by the state agencies under my authority." Guidance is essential to protect public servants who administer and remit funds for state and county contracts on an almost daily basis to "ensure that contracts are executed, and payments made in accordance with and authorized by state law."

The present situation is even more related to her executive duties because of the pending appointments invoking her power under Article III, Section 10. Opinion of Judges, 162 N.W. 536, 538 (S.D. 1917) (holding that issues raised by Governor's power to appoint members of rural credit board presented important questions of law under Article V, § 5). Guidance to alleviate the prevailing confusion is desperately needed because, in a state with part-time, citizen legislators who do not receive much compensation, many potential qualified candidates are deterred from ever stepping forward because the lack of clear direction makes public service an unnecessary risk to their livelihoods. Resolving such situations on a "case by case" basis has produced 130 years of disagreement and uncertainty, with only a handful of adversarial proceedings initiated during that time.

This Court further held in Noem that the Governor's request presented a solemn occasion, explaining:

The Court has determined that you have presented an important question of law. The issue is not pending before the Court. While the issue does involve private rights, it also raises a broader conflict of interest question involving a legislator's entitlement to appropriated funds, which is an issue with significant impact on State government and public perceptions associated with the distribution of such an extraordinary large sum of money.

Id. Again, that same reasoning is applicable here. The solemnity of the occasion is further heightened, moreover, because of the necessity "to prevent former, current, and prospective legislators and candidates from unwittingly violating this broad constitutional prohibition." (Governor's Request at 3).

As recently noted in exceedingly informative and in some ways alarming testimony by the State Auditor, there may be a substantial number of current legislators—perhaps a quarter of the Legislature—whose status could be affected by an overly broad interpretation of the Contracts Clause.

This is a potential crisis that could impact the entire government.¹

Moreover, the potentially incorrect interpretation of a constitutional provision—resulting in self-disqualification of legislators and potential candidates, as well as economic uncertainty and anxiety experienced by legislators and their spouses regarding their livelihoods—presents a solemn occasion involving a potentially profound distortion of the democratic process.

The South Dakota Legislature supports the Governor's request.

- II. UNDER THE PLAIN MEANING OF ITS TEXT, THE PROHIBITION IN THE CONTRACTS CLAUSE APPLIES TO CONTRACTS "AUTHORIZED" BY ANY LAW—IT EXPRESSLY DOES NOT APPLY TO CONTRACTS MERELY FUNDED BY ANY LAW.
 - A. An unambiguous constitutional provision must be interpreted according to the plain meaning of its text.

The object of constitutional construction is "to give effect to the intent of the framers of the organic law and of the people adopting it." Doe v. Nelson, 2004 SD 62, ¶12, 680 N.W.2d 302, 307 (quoting Poppen v. Walker, 520 N.W.2d 238, 242 (S.D. 1994)). When determining the meaning of the South Dakota Constitution, courts first examine its text. See Brendtro v. Nelson, 2006 SD 71, ¶16, 720 N.W.2d 670, 675. Words used in the Constitution are taken in their natural and obvious sense and given the meaning they have in common usage. See In re Janklow, 1999 SD 27, ¶5, 589 N.W.2d 624, 626.

"In the absence of ambiguity," moreover, "the language in the constitution must be applied as it reads' and this Court is obligated to apply its 'plain meaning." Brendtro, 2006 SD 71, ¶36, 720 N.W.2d at 682; In re Issuance of Summons, 2018 S.D. 16, ¶18, 908 N.W.2d 160, 167. As this Court has explained this fundamental rule of construction:

As men, whose intentions require no concealment, generally employ the words which most directly and aptly express the ideas they intend to convey, the enlightened patriots who framed our constitution, and the people who adopted it, must be understood to have employed words in their natural sense, and to have intended what they have said.

Schomer v. Scott, 274 N.W. 556, 561 (S.D. 1937).

This Court's textualist approach differs from those that broadly seek to enforce the perceived "spirit" or purpose behind an enactment:

Perhaps the nontextualists' favorite substitute for text is purpose. So-called purposivism, which has been called 'the basic judicial approach these days,' facilitates departure from the text in several ways. Where purpose is king, text is not—so the purposivist goes around or behind the words of the controlling text to achieve what he believes is the provision's purpose.

Antonin Scalia & Bryan Garner, Reading Law: The Interpretation of Legal Texts, 18 (Thomson/West 2012).

Textualism, on the other hand, best validates the rule of law by: "(1) giving effect to the text that lawmakers have adopted and the people are entitled to rely on, and (2) giving no effect to lawmakers' unenacted desires." Id. at 29. The bottom line in South Dakota, as this Court consistently has held, is that "[w]e must assume the drafters said what they meant and meant what they said." Brendtro, 2006 SD 71, ¶36, 720 N.W.2d at 682.

B. The plain meaning of the text of the Contracts Clause unambiguously refers to the legislative authorization, not merely funding, of contracts in which a legislator has a direct or indirect interest.

Article III, Section 12 has remained unchanged since it was framed at our constitutional conventions and adopted by the people in 1889. It consists of two distinct clauses: (1) the Appointments Clause; and (2) the Contracts Clause. These two clauses do not overlap. Each establishes independent parameters of prohibited conduct for legislators.

1. The Appointments Clause

The Appointments Clause addresses a legislator being appointed or elected to other offices. It contains several specific prohibitions:

No member of the Legislature shall, during the term for which he was elected, be appointed or elected to any civil office in the state which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased during the term for which he was elected, nor shall any member receive any civil appointment from the Governor, the Governor and senate, or from the Legislature during the term for which he shall have been elected, and all such appointments and all votes given for any such members for any such office or appointment shall be void;

S.D. Const., Art. III, § 12. The Appointments Clause is not at issue here.

2. The Contracts Clause

The Contracts Clause addresses the separate situation of a legislator who may be interested in a contract with the state or a county. It provides:

[N]or shall any member of the Legislature during the term for which he shall have been elected, or within one year thereafter, be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with the state or any county thereof, authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected.

S.D. Const., Art. III, § 12. The Governor's request here implicates the true meaning of the Contracts Clause.

Under the plain meaning of its text, the Contracts Clause prohibits a sitting legislator (or former legislator within one year) from being interested, directly or indirectly, in one specific category of contracts with the state or any county. That category is limited to contracts "authorized by any law" passed by the Legislature during the term in which that legislator served.

The Contracts Clause clearly does not flatly prohibit a legislator from being interested in any contract with the state. If the framers intended for that to be the case, that is what they would have said in enacting the clause.

It also clearly does not prohibit a legislator from being interested in any contract merely funded by the state during the term for which that legislator was elected. If that is what the framers intended, that is what the clause would have said.

And it clearly does not broadly prohibit a legislator from simply being an end recipient of any funds appropriated during the term for which that legislator was elected. Once again, if that was the framers' intention, that is what they would have said.

Instead, the prohibition applies only to contracts with a state or county, and further applies only to contracts: (1) authorized; (2) by any law; (3) passed during the legislator's term. The scope of the prohibition thus turns on the plain meaning of those terms.

Unfortunately, none of this Court's previous decisions addressing the Contracts Clause (and there are only a handful) have engaged in the required textual analysis of the clause. Specifically, none of this Court's cases have examined the plain meaning of the phrase "authorized by any law" in the Contracts Clause. The South Dakota Legislature respectfully suggests that in acting upon the Governor's request, this Court should engage in that textual analysis now.

The first edition of Black's Law Dictionary released in 1891 does not define the verb "authorize," but defines the term "authority" as "the lawful delegation of power" by one to another in contract law and as "Legal power; a right to command or to act" with regard to governmental law:

AUTHORITY. In contracts. The lawful delegation of power by one person to another.

In the English law relating to public administration, an authority is a body having jurisdiction in certain matters of a public nature.

In governmental law. Legal power; a right to command or to act; the right and power of public officers to require obedience to their orders is withly issued in the scope of their public duties.

Authority to execute a deed must be

Wend. 68, 75; 5 Mass. 11; 5 Bm. 613.

Henry Campbell Black, A Dictionary of Law (West Publishing Co. 1891) (App.

given by deed. Con. Dig. "Attorney," C, 5; 4 Term, 318; 7 Term, 207; 1 Holt, 141; 9

1-2). Modern editions define "authorize" as:

1. To give legal authority; to empower <he authorized the employee to act for him>. 2. To formally approve; to sanction <the city authorized the construction project>.

Bryan Garner, Black's Law Dictionary (Thomson West 8th ed. 1999).

That definition is consistent with the plain meaning of the same term in 1889 when the South Dakota Constitution was framed and adopted.

Webster's first comprehensive dictionary defined "authorize" and "authorized" as follows:

AUTHORIŽE, v. t. [Fr. autoriser; Sp. autorizar.] 1. To give authority, warrant or legal power to; to give a right to act; to empower; as, to authorize commissioners to settle the boundary of the state. 2. To make legal; as, to authorize a marriage. 3. To establish by authority, as by usage, or public opinion; as an authorized idiom of language. 4. To give authority credit or reputation to: as to authorize a report, or opinion. To justify; to support as right. Suppress desires which reason does not authorize. AU'THORIZED, pp. Warranted by right; supported by authority; derived from legal or proper authority; having power or authority.

Noah Webster, An American Dictionary of the English Language (S. Converse 1828). (App. 3-4). An even more contemporaneous edition of his magnum opus, released in 1880 only a few years before the first of South Dakota's three constitutional conventions, defined "authorize" as:

Au'thor-ize, v.t. [imp. & p. p. AUTHORIZED; p. pr. & vb. n. AUTHORIZING.] [L. Lat. auctorizare, Pr. auctorisar, authorisar, Fr. autoriser, Sp. & Pg. autorizar, It. autorizzare. See AUTHOR.]
1. To clothe with authority, warrant, or legal power; to give a right to act; to empower; as, to authorize commissioners to settle the boundary of the state. 2. To make legal; to legalize; as, to authorize a marriage. 3. To establish by authority, as by usage or public opinion; as, idioms authorized by usage. 4. To give authority, credit, reputation, or support to; as, to authorize a report, or an opinion. A woman's story at a winter's fire Authorized by her grandam. Shak. 5. To rely for authority. [Obs.] Authorizing himself, for the most part, upon other histories.

Noah Webster, American Dictionary of the English Language (G. & C. Merriam 1880) (App. 5-6).

Released in 1930, Webster's New International Dictionary defined "authorize" and "authorized" similarly:

au'thor-ize (ô'thor-iz), v. t.; Au'thor-ized (-izd); Au'thor-IZ'ING (-IZ'Ing). [ME. autorize, F. autoriser, fr. LL. auctorizare. See AUTHOR.] 1. To clothe with authority, warrant, or legal power; to give a right to act; to empower; as, to authorize commissioners to settle a boundary. 2. To give legal sanction to; to make legal; to legalize; as, to authorize a marriage. 3. To establish by authority, as by usage or public opinion; to sanction; as, idioms authorized by usage. 4. To sanction or confirm by the authority of some one; to warrant; as, to authorize a report. 5. To justify; to furnish a ground for. Locke. Syn. - See RATIFY. to authorize one's self, to assume authority for one's self. Obs. Authorizing himself, for the most part, upon other histories. Sir P. Sidney. au'thor-ized (-izd), p. a. 1. Possessed of, or endowed with, authority; as, an authorized agent. 2. Sanctioned or approved by authority.

Webster's New International Dictionary of the English Language, (G. & C. Merriam Co. 1930) (App. 5-7).

None of these definitions equate the term "authorized" with the entirely separate notion of "funded." Indeed, the concepts of funding or appropriations do not make any appearance at all in the Contracts Clause.² Courts, of course, are precluded from reading language into laws that is simply not there. See State through Attorney General v. Buffalo Chip, 2020 S.D. 63, ¶29, 951 N.W.2d 387, 396 n.15. That basic rule is even more imperative as applied to the South Dakota Constitution. As this Court once explained in a somewhat analogous context:

² "Where the meaning of a constitutional provision is unclear, it is appropriate to look at the intent of the drafting bodies[.]" Doe, 2004 SD 62 at ¶10, 680 N.W.2d at 306. Because the plain meaning of "authorized by any law" is unambiguous, there is no occasion to consult the constitutional debates here. But in any event, there is no record of any debate or discussion of the Contracts Clause during the conventions in 1883, 1885, or 1889. There is only discussion of the Appointments Clause.

"[I]f the word 'expenses' had occurred in our Constitution, we would not hesitate for one moment to declare the law unconstitutional. It is the absence of this word, and the absence of any provision limiting the right of the Legislature to provide expenses, which it makes it difficult to see the applicability of this case to the matter at bar.

Christopherson v. Reeves, 184 N.W. 1015, 1018 (S.D. 1921). The framers clearly understood the concept of funding and appropriations as a distinct and unique part of the legislative process because they established an entire constitutional article to govern that area. See S.D. Const., Art XII. And yet those terms are absent from the Contracts Clause.

When analyzing the text of the Mississippi Constitution's contracts clause, Justice Robertson authored a thoughtful dissent engaging in a persuasive textual analysis of the plain meaning of the key term:

The word "authorized," and the concept of authority, have familiar meanings. They import notions of legal power. One has authority regarding a matter not merely when as a practical matter he may act with effect but when some valid law provides that, if he so acts, no one may of right complain or interfere. Authority connotes the lawful delegation of power by one legal entity to another. Black's Law Dictionary 168 (4th ed. 1957). One "authorized" to act is one possessed of authority, that is, possessed of legal or rightful power." Id. at 169.

How then do "contracts" become "authorized" within the best fit meaning of Section 109? The answer is found in identifying the legal entity which is legally empowered to obligate each contracting party to the terms of the contract.

Frazier v. State by and through Pittman, 504 So.2d 675, 711 (Miss. 1987) (Robertson, J., concurring and dissenting in part).

The specific Section 109 question becomes, have Sen. Anderson and Rep. Frazier been interested in a contract "authorized by any law passed or order made by any board of which he may ... have been a member....?"

On the facts before us, the answer is inescapably "No." The only legal entity that authorized, or that had authority to authorize, the contract was the Board of Trustees. There is no evidence before us that either Anderson or Frazier is or ever has been a member of the Board of Trustees.

Conversely, neither the Senate, of which Anderson is a member, nor the House of Representatives, of which Frazier has been and is a member, has authorized either contract. That is, neither the Senate nor the House of Representatives has taken any action which has obligated anyone to perform the duties owing to Frazier by virtue of the contract.

Id. at 711-12.

The majority's retort is that, even though the legislature has no legal power to authorize or enter a contract with Anderson or Frazier to teach at Jackson State, it "funds" contracts the Board authorizes. Funding is said to be tantamount to authorization.

There are many problems with this argument, not the least of which is that neither Mr. Webster nor Mr. Black has ever defined "authorized" to include "funded," nor vice versa.

... The suggestion that "authorized" encompasses "funded" purely and simply violates the rule of "best fit." Funding is not a meaning that fits the word "authorized."

Id. at 712-13.

Similarly, under the plain meaning of the term "authorized" in the Contracts Clause of the South Dakota Constitution, in order for a contract to have been "authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected," a specific law must be identified that provided the legal authority, not simply a revenue source, for the contract in which the legislator is interested. As noted by Justice Robertson, moreover, the modifiers "directly or indirectly" refer only to the interest that a legislator may have in a particular contract, and do not apply to the phrase "authorized by any law." Id. at 712.

C. Under the terms of Article XII, Section 2, a general appropriation bill provides funding to departments and agencies, as opposed to legal authority or authorization to enter into contracts.

This raises the question of whether a general appropriation bill, a unique species of law specifically defined under the South Dakota Constitution, does, in fact, "authorize" individual contracts under the plain meaning of that term, or whether it simply provides funding to the various departments and agencies of government. Unfortunately, although the issue has been summarily addressed in a few of this Court's decisions addressing the Contracts Clause, none have examined the question in any detail from a textual perspective.

Certainly, a general appropriation bill qualifies as "any law" as that phrase is used in the Contracts Clause. Each contains the enacting clause "Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of South Dakota" and is passed by a majority of each branch as specified under Article III, Section 18.

Article XII, however, expressly limits what may be included in a general appropriation bill:

The general appropriation bill shall embrace nothing but appropriations for ordinary expenses of the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the state, the current expenses of state institutions, interest on the public debt, and for common schools. All other appropriations shall be made by separate bills, each embracing one object, and shall require a two-thirds vote of all the members of each branch of the Legislature.

S.D. Const., Art. XII, Section 2. As this Court has explained:

A general appropriation bill is not legislation in the true sense of the term. It is as its language implies 'a setting apart of the funds necessary for the use and maintenance of the various departments of the state government already in existence and functioning.

... In providing that it should embrace nothing else, the framers of the Constitution undoubtedly intended that members of the legislature should be free to vote on it knowing that appropriations and nothing else were involved.'

Its singular subject is the appropriation of money. It serves no other purpose and its contents are constitutionally defined and limited.

State ex rel. Oster v. Jorgenson, 136 N.W.2d 870, 872 (S.D. 1965) (emphasis supplied). As can be readily seen from Senate Bill 210, the general appropriation bill for 2023, the Legislature adheres to that requirement and simply appropriates funds to various departments and agencies:

An Act to appropriate money for the ordinary expenses of the legislative, judicial, and executive departments of the state, the current expenses of state institutions, interest on the public debt, and for common schools.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA:

Section 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the following sums of money or expenditure authority, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the ordinary expenses of the legislative, judicial, and executive departments of the state, certain officers, boards, and commissions, and support and maintenance of the educational, charitable, and penal institutions of the state for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2024.

	GENERAL	FEDERAL	OTHER	TOTAL
	FUNDS	FUNDS	FUNDS	FUNDS
SECTION 2. OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR (1) Office of the Governor
Personal Services	$2,185,269	$0	$0	$2,185,269
Operating Expenses	$489,907	$0	$0	$489,907
Total	$2,675,176	$0	$0	$2,675,176
FTE				21.5

(App. 9). Such blanket appropriations do not themselves clothe those departments and agencies with the legal authority necessary to enter into specific contracts. By constitutional imperative, such authority is conferred by other laws previously enacted, which is how the expenses become "ordinary expenses" and "current expenses" under Article XII, Section 2. Blanket appropriations set forth in a general appropriation bill constitutionally required to "embrace nothing but appropriations" thus do not "authorize" contracts within the plain meaning of the Contracts Clause in Article III, Section 12.

In sharp contrast, special appropriations (any appropriation not a general appropriation) must be passed in separate bills and require a two-thirds vote by each branch to become law under Article XII, Section 2. Indeed, a close reading of that provision strongly suggests that a special appropriation is what the framers had in mind when using the phrase "authorized by any law" in the Contracts Clause, because the Legislature routinely both "authorizes" and provides funding for specific purposes in which an individual member may have a contractual interest in special appropriations.

For example, Senate Bill 17 enacted this year authorizes and appropriates money for specific water resource projects to be overseen by the Board of Water and Natural Resources. (App. 42). Section one identifies eleven different water projects necessary for the general welfare and "authorizes the projects, pursuant to [SDCL] 46A-1-2, to be included in the state water resources management system, to serve as the preferred, priority objectives of the state[.]" (App. 42). Additional sections appropriate money for those projects and other purposes. The result is that contracts for those projects have been "authorized by any law" enacted by the Legislature within the meaning of the Contracts Clause. No legislator serving during the term Senate Bill 17 was passed could have an interest in any such contracts without violating that constitutional provision.

The New Mexico Constitution contains a provision nearly identical to our Contracts Clause. In State ex rel. Baca v. Otero, 267 P. 68 (N.M. 1928), the New Mexico Supreme Court considered whether a sitting legislator's contract of employment as a rural school supervisor, funded by a state general appropriation bill, violated New Mexico's clause. Reversing the lower court, the Supreme Court held it did not:

Respondent argues that an employment is based upon a contract, and that the only authority to employ any person to perform such duties rests in the general appropriation bill passed by the Legislature in 1927, and that inasmuch as relator was a member of that Legislature he was precluded from entering into such contract by the constitutional provision above quoted.

In this position counsel for respondent are in error. The contract of employment was not authorized by the appropriation bill of the 1927 Legislature, of which relator was a member, but was authorized by Laws 1923, c. 148, § 201, subsec. (a), which gives to the superintendent of public instruction the power to supervise all municipal and rural schools and authorities thereof. Relator was therefore entitled to enter into this contract of employment, and is entitled to receive his compensation and expenses incurred in the administration of the same.

Id. at 69 (emphasis supplied).

In State ex rel. Maryland Casualty Co. v. State Highway Comm'n, 35 P.2d 308 (N.M. 1934), similarly, the highway commission contracted with a local insurance agency owned by a state legislator for worker's compensation for state highway employees. Even though the contract was entered into and premiums invoiced to the commission during the legislator's term, the court held it did not violate the contracts clause because the statute by which the Legislature "authorized" the Commission to purchase such insurance was enacted before legislator took office. See id. at 309-12; State ex rel. Stratton v. Roswell Ind. Schools, 806 P.2d 1085, 1095-96 (N.M. Ct. App. 1991) (holding that "general appropriations bill increasing the salaries of public school employees did not authorize Casey's and Hocevar's employment contract").

The New Mexico courts thus recognize that the restriction created by the phrase "authorized by any law" in its contracts clause—virtually identical to the South Dakota provision—refers to laws that actually do "authorize" contracts under the plain meaning of that term, as opposed to laws such as a general appropriation bill that merely appropriate funds.

The framers of the South Dakota Constitution understood with unique precision how the legislative and appropriations processes were intended to work because they were the architects of those very processes. The South Dakota Legislature respectfully suggests that under the plain meaning of the constitutional text selected by the framers and ratified by the people in 1889, the specific and limited prohibition regarding a legislator's interest in contracts "authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected," does not broadly extend to all contracts that merely are funded by such a law.

Rather, the specific law in question must have provided the legal authority for the contract in question in order to fall within the plain meaning of the constitutional prohibition. To adopt a contrary interpretation, one would have to rationalize that the framers of the Constitution did not say what they actually meant—and did not mean what they actually said—in violation of this Court's fundamental precepts for interpreting constitutional provisions.

D. Under this Court's precedent, the Contracts Clause was interpreted in a manner consistent with its text until obiter dicta emphasizing public policy goals swallowed the true holdings in Palmer, Norbeck I, and Norbeck II.

When construing a constitutional provision, this Court "may look to the history of the times and examine the state of things existing when the constitution was framed and adopted." City of Sioux Falls v. Sioux Falls Firefighters, 234 N.W.2d 35, 37 (S.D. 1975). Without question, one of the overarching concerns of the framers was combatting corruption by the legislators. As detailed by one of South Dakota's leading historians:

One of the strongest pillars of republican theory involves the need to guard against corruption. During the constitutional debates in Dakota Territory, perhaps the strongest efforts of the delegates were directed at crafting a document which limited corruption. Instead of being unconsciously mired in the political corruption of the post-Civil War era, the advocates of statehood were acutely aware of these democratic shortcomings and specifically sought to transcend them.

... The delegates to the constitutional convention focused their anti-corruption efforts on the legislature. The Dakota constitution would include restrictions placed on legislator's ability to compete for state contracts, a prohibition on legislators' holding offices created when they were in the legislature, and bans on corrupt solicitation and "lobbying" which were punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Jon Lauck, "The Organic Law of a Great Commonwealth," 53 S.D. L. Rev. 203, 233 (2008); see also Jon Lauck, Prairie Republic: The Political Culture of Dakota Territory, 1879-1889, 102-04 (Univ. of Okla. Press 2010).

Even so, it is the text of the organic law actually adopted by the People that must delineate and govern the constitutional expression of the laudable public policy goal of anti-corruption. This Court thus "is not concerned with the wisdom or expediency or the need of a constitutional provision, but only whether it limits the power of the legislature." Poppen, 520 N.W.2d at 242; State ex rel. Mills v. Wilder, 42 N.W.2d 891, 895 (S.D. 1950) ("To bend our organic law to the popular will by astute construction is not our function").

In tracing this Court's decisions applying the Contracts Clause, it is possible to discern the point at which dicta related to enforcing the perceived public policy goals of the framers overwhelmed and subsumed the plain meaning of the constitutional text.

1. Palmer

This Court first took up the Contracts Clause in 1898, nine years after statehood. See Palmer v. State, 75 N.W. 818 (S.D. 1898). During the 1897 legislative session, a bill was passed (S.B. 1) entitled, in part, "An Act to ... to Confer upon the Board of Railroad Commissioners Certain Powers in Relation Thereto, and to Provide for the Enforcement of the Orders and Regulations of Said Commissioners." Id. at 819 (citing SL 1897, Ch. 110, § 41) (App. 48). Specifically, this law conferred authority on the Board to enter into certain contracts with outside legal counsel:

Said commissioners are hereby also authorized, when in their opinion it is necessary or proper, to employ any and all additional legal counsel to assist them in the discharge of their duties and to conduct and prosecute any and all suits they may determine to bring under the provisions of this act or any law of this state, or to the assist the attorney general in the prosecution of the same.

Id. (emphasis supplied) (App. 48). During the same session, the Legislature passed the general appropriation bill (S.B. 244) which appropriated $4,500 to the Board's litigation fund. See id. (citing SL 1897, Ch. 10, § 20). (App. 70).

An attorney named C.S. Palmer elected to serve in the South Dakota Senate during the term for which these laws were passed was hired by the Board to defend it. When Senator Palmer's invoice was submitted for payment, the State Auditor "declined to allow it, for the reason that plaintiff was and is a member of the legislature which enacted the law which authorized his employment." Id. The law that authorized the contract, of course, was not the general appropriation bill, but S.B. 1, the Railway Act authorizing the Board to retain him. Ratifying the Auditor's decision not to pay the invoice, this Court held:

If the board was authorized to employ counsel at the expense of the state, and the statute cited clearly clothed it with such authority, such employment created a contract with the state. It was a contract authorized by laws passed during the term of the legislature for which plaintiff was elected, executed during the term for which he was elected, and in which the constitution expressly declares he shall not be directly or indirectly interested.

Id. (emphasis supplied). Because Senator Palmer was in the Legislature when it enacted the law that authorized the Board to employ legal counsel, his contract with the Board clearly violated the constitutional provision.

Unfortunately, the Palmer decision also included obiter dicta making broad policy pronouncements about the "spirit" and "purpose" of the Contracts Clause, as opposed to the plain meaning of its text. That policy-oriented dicta would seem to prohibit any funds originating from a general appropriation bill from eventually trickling down through state departments or agencies and ultimately being received, for whatever reason, by a legislator in office when the annual general appropriation bill was passed. See id. That same dicta also seems to flatly dismiss "[a]ll contracts made during the prohibited period" as "invalid" without regard to whether they were authorized by a law passed during the legislator's term. Id.

As discussed above, the broad policy pronouncement in Palmer concerning the "spirit of the constitutional inhibition," id. (emphasis supplied), is irreconcilable with "the letter" or plain meaning of the text of the Contracts Clause. Only contracts in which a legislator is interested that were "authorized" by a law passed by the Legislature—not merely funded—during the legislator's term are prohibited, as the strict holding of Palmer provides.

2. Norbeck I and Justice Whiting's warning

The next decision addressing the Contracts Clause arrived in 1913.

See Norbeck & Nicholson Co. v. State, 142 N.W. 847 (S.D. 1913) (Norbeck I).

In Norbeck I, the sole law at issue involved a special appropriation (S.B. 11), rather than the general appropriation bill. See id. at 848 (citing SL 1911, Ch. 38) (App. 75). That law clearly both authorized the Board of Regents to contract for the sinking of an artesian well at the University of South Dakota and appropriated funds for that express purpose:

APPROPRIATION FOR ARTESIAN WELL AT STATE UNIVERSITY

AN ACT Entitled, An Act Appropriating Money for Sinking and Equipping a Well at the State University and for Providing the Necessary Water Mains in Connection Therewith.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of South Dakota:

- § 1. That there be and is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the purpose of sinking a well at the state University and equipping the same with the proper and necessary pumping apparatus and water mains.
- § 2. The said well shall be sunk and equipped under the supervision of the regents of education, and by contract after receiving bids therefor, and the state auditor shall issue warrants on the state treasurer in payment for the sinking and equipping of said well as aforesaid upon proper verified vouchers of said regents of education, and upon presentation of such warrants the treasurer shall pay the same.
- § 3. Whereas, there are no funds available for the payment of the expense of sinking and equipping such well; and whereas, the water supply at present available for the state University buildings is wholly inadequate for fire protection and other daily necessary use, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

Approved February 1, 1911.

(App. 75). Specifically, the law provided that "[t]he said well shall be sunk and equipped under the supervision of the regents of education, and by contract after receiving bids therefor[.]" (App. 75). A clearer and more obvious example of a contract "authorized by any law" enacted by the Legislature is hard to imagine.

Peter Norbeck (future Governor and United States Senator) was in the South Dakota Senate during the term S.B. 11 was passed. See Norbeck I, 142 N.W. at 848. He also was president and owner of the drilling company that later received the contract with the Regents to drill the well. See id. Norbeck thus had at least an indirect interest in the contract that was authorized by a law enacted during his legislative term. See id. at 850. As a result, the State Auditor refused to pay Norbeck under the contract due to the prohibition in the Contracts Clause. See id. at 848.

In an original action brought by Norbeck, this Court very properly held the contract to be in violation of the Contracts Clause. In what may fairly be described as a confusing exposition, however, Justice McCoy's majority decision anchored itself in a legislator's "fiduciary and trust relation toward the state" and "sound public policy," id. at 849-51, rather than the plain meaning of the text of the Contracts Clause. The confusion is heightened by the decision's primary reliance—not so much on the Contracts Clause of Article III, Section 12—but on a different provision that, coincidentally, has the same article and section number, only juxtaposed: Article XII, Section 3.

Justice Whiting authored a concurring opinion sounding a wise note of caution to courts considering future cases. Explaining he was unable to join the majority's errant reasoning, he wrote:

Speaking of the members of the Legislature, Justice McCOY says: "It seems to be almost universally held that it is against sound public policy to permit such an agent, or any agent occupying a like position, to himself be directly or indirectly interested in any contract with the state or other municipality during the period of time of the existence of such trust or confidential relationship."

My colleague is in error in such statement. The only contract that a legislator is forbidden to enter into with the state is a contract authorized by a law passed while he was a legislator. Even while a member of the Legislature, he is as free as any other person to enter into other contracts with the state.

We have this constitutional provision, not because it is feared that a member of the Legislature would or might use his position to obtain an unfair contract, or would or might, owing to such position, attempt to avoid full compliance with the terms of his contract—the fear of which has led to the enactment of laws forbidding administrative officers from being parties to contracts with their corporate bodies—but this constitutional provision was enacted through fear that a legislator might be, either consciously or unconsciously, influenced by selfish motives when voting for or against a bill.

If there were no danger that a legislator's vote might be so influenced, there would be absolutely no more reason to forbid his entering into a contract authorized by the Legislature of which he was a member than to forbid his entering into any other contract with the state.

In the case of an enactment forbidding a legislative officer from being interested in a contract authorized by a law passed during his term, the law looks to a time prior to and entirely separate and distinct from the time of the entering into, or of the performance of, the contract. Such a contract is not forbidden because the contractor as such would be occupying an inconsistent position, in that he would, in entering into the contract, be attempting to serve the state as well as himself.

So far as the state and he are concerned, when entering into the contract, they deal with one another at arm's length exactly as would the state and any other contractor; as a member of the Legislature, the contractor is not presumed to be in any better position to obtain an unfair contract than if the contract related to some matter concerning which he was not forbidden to contract.

That the framers of our Constitution recognized that the legislator's position did not tend to affect the contract itself appears from the fact that the law not only forbids his entering into such a contract during the term for which he was elected, but during one year thereafter. Under some Constitutions such prohibition extends for all time.

No person can presume that the framers of the Constitution imagined that any legislator, after he had gone out of office, would occupy a fiduciary relation to the state, or would be in a position enabling him to take an undue advantage of the state when contracting.

In enacting this provision of the Constitution the framers thereof had in mind, not the time of entering into the contract nor the relation of the parties at that or any subsequent time, not even any danger that the legislator might obtain an unfair contract; but they had in mind solely the time and his relation to the state when he should cast his vote, and they sought to remove from his path an influence that might affect his vote.

This constitutional provision was designed to prevent any legislator, while he should be serving the state in the enactment of laws, from being tempted and influenced, either consciously or unconsciously, by any selfish interests.

Norbeck I, 142 N.W. at 852-53 (Whiting, J., concurring in result). Justice Whiting's construction of the true meaning of the Contracts Clause is a shining example of clear and thoughtful jurisprudential analysis.

3. The quick correction in Norbeck II

Demonstrating the persistence that came to characterize his later political life, Senator Norbeck was back almost immediately to test out a new theory to secure payment for digging the well. In Norbeck & Nicholson Co. v. State, 144 N.W. 658 (S.D. 1913) (Norbeck II), this Court again rejected his petition, but utilized the occasion to reframe and limit its decision in Norbeck I along the lines suggested by Justice Whiting's concurrence.

Senator Norbeck's new theory was that even though he was in the Legislature that passed S.B. 11, the law authorizing the contract for drilling the well, it did not necessarily need to be paid from the funds that also were appropriated by that law. See Norbeck II, 144 N.W. at 659. In rejecting that theory, this Court made clear that it was the "authorization" to contract, not the mere appropriation or source of the funds, which triggered the constitutional prohibition:

[T]he contract was one "authorized" by chapter 38, Laws 1911, and that Peter Norbeck was then a member of the Legislature.

Section 12, art. 3, of the state Constitution, declares that no member of the Legislature shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract with the state, authorized by any law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected, or within one year thereafter.

Under the former decision of this court upon the demurrer to the original complaint (142 N.W. 847), this identical contract was held void because in violation of this provision of the Constitution. It cannot therefore he made the ground of recovery in this action, even though there may have been funds available derived from other sources than the appropriation of 1911.

The validity of the contract is in no manner dependent upon the sources from which state funds may be derived to liquidate the indebtedness created by the contract.

Id. (emphasis supplied). This Court then further limited its holding to align with Justice Whiting's concurrence in the prior decision:

The contract here involved concededly was entered into pursuant to and in execution of an act of the legislative assembly, and its validity depended upon the conditions existing at the time of its execution, and not upon acts or conditions done or arising subsequently. If the contract itself was void at the time of its execution, because of the constitutional inhibition, no circumstances or facts thereafter arising could change its status or render it valid.

Id. As a result, as this Court squarely held:

The contract upon which plaintiff seeks recovery was authorized by a legislative act, and is within the very language of the Constitution which says that no member of the legislative assembly shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract authorized by a law passed during the term for which he shall have been elected.

Id. Interestingly, both Justice McCoy and Justice Whiting joined the decision in Norbeck II in full.

Norbeck II thus seemed to clear up the unfortunate obiter dicta from Palmer and Norbeck I quite swiftly and thoughtfully. This Court's statement in an unrelated case of the same era sums up the precedential value of overreaching dicta: "It was not necessary to decide that question in Turner v. Hand County, and the language used in that case, if construed as holding a different view, is obiter dictum, and does not express the views of the court in the present case." Haggart v. Alton, 137 N.W. 372, 376 (S.D. 1912); see also McCoy v. Handlin, 153 N.W. 361, 367 (S.D. 1915) (quoting Cohens v. State of Virginia, 19 U.S. 264, 399-400 (1821) (Marshall, C.J.); Bryan Garner et al., The Law of Judicial Precedent, § 4, 58-59 (Thomson Reuters 2016).

4. Dicta resurrected in Asphalt Surfacing

It was not until almost three-quarters of a century after the course correction in Norbeck II that this Court would have occasion to examine the Contracts Clause again. In Asphalt Surfacing Co. v. South Dakota Dep't of Transp., 365 N.W2d 115 (S.D. 1986), the SDDOT held a bid letting for road projects. Asphalt Surfacing, whose president was state Senator Thomas Krueger, was the low bidder.

Relying on the Contracts Clause, the DOT Commission did not award the contracts to Asphalt Surfacing on the basis that Senator Krueger was a legislator during the 1985 legislative session that enacted a general appropriation bill (H.B. 1371). (App. 76).

In an action challenging the Commission's decision, this Court correctly framed the question:

The key issue presented is whether article III, section 12 of the South Dakota Constitution prohibits the State from awarding a contract for highway repair to a company because its president was a legislator at the time the general appropriation bill covering the repair funds was passed.

This issue may be divided into subparts: (1) whether passage of a general appropriation bill is the type of authorization contemplated by the constitutional provision, and (2) whether the constitutional provision applies to contracts awarded to the lowest bidder. We answer both in the affirmative.

Id. at 117. Unfortunately, the decision did not actually examine the question posed. Instead, it first resuscitated the expansive dicta from Palmer and announced that the Contract Clause is to be "strictly interpreted," presumably intending to mean that it should be expansively interpreted.

The decision then focused on the word "any," rather than the plain meaning of "authorized" in the provision:

Article III, section 12 specifically prohibits a contract with the State if "authorized by any law" during the legislator's term. (Emphasis added.) Our constitutional framers obviously intended a broad prohibition. Palmer, 11 S.D. at 80–81, 75 N.W. at 819. This leaves little question that section 12 applies to a general appropriation bill as well as more specific legislative decisions.

Asphalt Surfacing, 385 N.W.2d at 117. Those three bare sentences, an ipse dixit without any chain of supporting logic, constitute the analysis.

To be fair, the decision was correct in concluding that a general appropriation bill qualifies as "any law" under the Contracts Clause. Just as clearly, however, that was not the right question. Rather, the issue was whether a general appropriation bill that merely appropriates funds to various departments and agencies—its only constitutionally permissible function under Article XII, Section 2—can accurately be said to have "authorized" a contract later funded by the state within the plain meaning of that constitutional term. As discussed, blanket appropriations in a general appropriation bill do not themselves clothe departments and agencies with the legal authority necessary to enter into specific contracts. Such authority necessarily is conferred by other laws, including special appropriation laws. Blanket appropriations set forth in a general appropriation bill thus do not "authorize" contracts within the plain meaning of the Contracts Clause.

Ironically, Asphalt Surfacing—the most proximate source of the current confusion prompting the Governor's request—concludes with an accurate summary of the scope of the Contracts Clause:

... [A] present legislator may benefit from a contract with the State if the contract was not authorized during his term and he is the lowest responsible bidder. A former legislator, less than one year out of office, may benefit from a State contract if it was not authorized during his elected term. If a legislator has been out of office more than one year, neither the constitutional provision nor statute prohibit his contracting with the State.

Id. at 118 (emphasis supplied). The error of Asphalt Surfacing is its failure to consider the plain meaning of the term "authorized." Before that decision in 1986, this Court had never even suggested that one's presence in the Legislature during passage of the annual general appropriation bill would trigger the prohibition in the Contracts Clause.³

5. Pitts and Chief Justice Gilbertson's dissent

Fifteen years later, in Pitts v Larson, 2001 S.D. 151, 638 N.W.2d 254 (S.D. 2001), this Court addressed application of the Contracts Clause to

Representative Carol Pitts, an educator employed by SDSU Cooperative Extension Service. The 2001 general appropriation bill (H.B. 1233), passed during her elected term, appropriated funds to SDSU-CES:

Cooperative Extension Service

F.T.E.				240.3

(App. 253).

The Attorney General warned Representative Pitts "that if she continued her employment with the State after July 1, 2001, the date on which the General Appropriation Bill was to take effect, her employment contract would be voided and she would not receive any compensation for her services." Id., ¶5, 638 N.W.2d at 255. The State Auditor was instructed not to pay her salary. She then sought a writ of mandamus from this Court to salvage the paychecks she had earned working for the school.

In a 3-2 decision, this Court arrived in a similar place as in Asphalt Surfacing. Denying the writ, the plurality decision repeated the overbroad dicta with its genesis in Palmer and the pronouncement in Asphalt Surfacing that interpreting the Contracts Clause "strictly" (meaning expansively, though not necessarily accurately) was the paramount concern.⁴

The key holding of Pitts, that the "broad prohibition" of the Contracts Clause "extends to any contract entered into with the State, including the General Appropriation Bill," actually is a non sequitur, because the general appropriation bill obviously is not a contract. Id. More fundamentally, Pitts is barren of textual analysis of the constitutional provision.

These flaws did not go unnoticed by Chief Justice Gilbertson, joined by Justice Amundson in dissent, who sought to redirect things to the proper textual analysis enunciated by Justice Whiting's concurrence in Norbeck I and this Court's recalibration in Norbeck II:

In this instance the meaning of Article III § 12 is not necessarily clear from a reading of the text. For example, in Norbeck I, the majority of this Court interpreted the prohibitions in the above article in an expansive manner. However, a special concurrence by Presiding Judge Whiting interpreted the provision only to preclude a sitting legislator from voting to create a contract between that legislator and the state or to improve his or her payments under an existing contract which predated the commencement of legislative service.

... Herein, Pitts originally contracted with the Board of Regents for her current employment in 1990. She was not elected to the Legislature until 2000. While Pitts did vote for the 2001 appropriations bill, that vote did not create her office or preclude commercial competition for the position. The annual renewal of her employment contract was with the Regents, and was not subject to legislative approval. The Legislature merely funded the contract by its annual appropriations bill.

Id., ¶¶ 25 & 33, 638 N.W.2d at 260-63 (Gilbertson, C.J., dissenting).

The South Dakota Legislature respectfully suggests that Chief Justice Gilbertson was correct. Deciphering meaning beyond the stated expenditure amounts in a general appropriation bill is not possible. Typically, the first section merely recites the constitutional language required by Article XII, Section 2. The remainder of the bill consists of tables disbursing blanket sums in categories to various departments and agencies.

The legal authority to contract cannot be determined and is not conferred by these dollar amounts. One must look elsewhere—to other laws passed by the Legislature—to find authorization to enter into contracts. As this Court clarified in Norbeck II, "[t]he validity of the contract is in no manner dependent upon the sources from which state funds may be derived to liquidate the indebtedness created by the contract." 144 N.W. at 659.

E. Enactment of conflict of interest laws more stringent than constitutional limitations falls within the purview of the Legislature.

That is not to say that the Legislature cannot choose to enact greater restrictions for its part-time, citizen legislators than those imposed by the constitution. See, e.g., Lindberg v. Benson, 70 N.W.2d 42, 44 (N.D. 1955); Conflicts of Interest of State Legislators, 76 Harv. L. Rev. 1209, 1209-10 (1963). South Dakota has adopted laws addressing contractual conflicts of interest, though most do not presently apply to legislators. See SDCL 3-16-7 to 8; SDCL 5-18A-17 to 17.6. The Legislature also has enacted a code of conduct addressing conflicts of interest. See Official Directory and Rules of the South Dakota Legislature, Joint Rule 1B-2 (2023).

Legislation that may prove overreaching is much easier to correct than an expansive construction of a constitutional limitation exceeding the reach of the plain meaning of its text. See Damon v. Cornett, 781 S.W.2d 597, 600 (Tex. 1989). As this Court emphasized a century ago in holding that the constitutional prohibition against increasing salaries of public officers was not intended to limit legislative authority to provide for their expenses:

Constitutional provisions are presumed to have been more carefully and deliberately framed than is the case with statutes; hence it is sometimes said that less latitude should be indulged by courts in their construction, but, on the other hand, courts are not at liberty to declare an act void because they deem it opposed to the spirit of the Constitution.

. . . It is now about 32 years since the state Constitution became operative, and conditions since 1889 have changed; many things may be considered advisable or necessary now that were not thought of at that time. It may now be believed that the habit or custom of providing for expenses in a lump sum is unwise and liable to abuse. No matter what the members of this court may think as to the wisdom of such legislation, it must be evidence to all that it is not a judicial question; it is purely a question of policy with which courts are not concerned.

State v. Reeves, 184 N.W. 993, 996-1000 (S.D. 1921) (emphasis supplied). Put simply, "[w]hat the representatives of the people have not been forbidden to do by the organic law, that they may do." Id.

III. APPLICATION TO THE GOVERNOR'S QUESTIONS

Based on the above, the South Dakota Legislature respectfully suggests the following advisory guidance to the Governor's queries.

May a vendor of the state receive a state payment if that vendor employs a legislator, and such legislator is not an owner of the vendor?

Proposed guidance: The Contracts Clause ordinarily would not prohibit such a payment. Under its plain meaning, it applies only to contracts authorized by a law enacted by the Legislature when a legislative member during that term has either a direct or indirect interest in the contract. The law in question must have provided the legal authority for the state or county to enter into the contract with the vendor that employs the legislator, not simply funding. Where that is the case, the situation detailed above still may not always implicate the Contracts Clause because in some factual circumstances, mere employment with the vendor, without any link to his or her compensation, may not qualify as a sufficient indirect interest in a particular contract. See Jones v. Howell, 827 So.2d 691, 699-700 (Miss. 2002).

May a vendor of the state receive a state payment if that vendor is a publicly traded company, and a legislator owns any shares of stock in such vendor?

Proposed guidance: The Contracts Clause ordinarily would not prohibit such a payment. Under its plain meaning, it applies only to contracts authorized by a law enacted by the Legislature when a legislative member during that term has either a direct or indirect interest in the contract. The law in question must have provided the legal authority for the state or county to enter into the contract with the vendor in which the legislator owns stock, not simply the funding.

Where that is the case, the situation detailed above may implicate the Contracts Clause in many factual circumstances, because owning a substantial stake in a publicly traded corporation may be an indirect interest in a particular contract.

May a legislator be a state, county, city, or school district employee either full time, part time, or seasonal, or an elected or appointed official?

Proposed guidance: The Contracts Clause would not bar such employment in most circumstances, although a legislator may be prohibited from holding some state positions by the Appointments Clause. The Contracts Clause would not be implicated unless the legal authority to enter into a particular employment contract with the state or a county, not simply the funding, was provided by a law enacted by the Legislature during the legislature's term. By its express terms, of course, the Contracts Clause has no application to contracts with cities or school districts. As a result, a legislator's mere employment with a county, city, or school district or by a department or entity funded by the state, such as a University educator whose employment contract was approved by the Board of Regents, would not violate the Contracts Clause in most circumstances.

May a legislator receive retirement compensation from the South Dakota Retirement System of services rendered other than acting as a legislator?

Proposed guidance: Yes. It is questionable whether the expectancy of retirement benefits is a "contract" in which a legislator (or former legislator within one year) has an interest within the meaning of the Contracts Clause. See Campbell v. Kelly, 202 S.E.2d 369, 381 (W.Va. 1974). But in any event, any such "contract" would not have been authorized by a law enacted by the Legislature during his or her term.

May a legislator or a business owned by a legislator subcontract for payment, goods, or services provided to or from the state?

Proposed guidance: If the contract was authorized by a law enacted during the legislator's term, the subcontract likely would be prohibited by the Contracts Clause because in most circumstances it would constitute an indirect interest in the contract. However, a general appropriation bill that merely provides funding to state departments and agencies does not itself clothe them with the legal authority to enter into specific contracts. By constitutional imperative, such authority is conferred by other laws. Blanket appropriations set forth in a general appropriation bill do not "authorize" contracts within the plain meaning of the Contracts Clause.

May a legislator or a business owned by a legislator receive Medicaid reimbursements administered by a state agency?

Proposed guidance: Yes. Even if such reimbursements were deemed a "contract" in which a legislator has an interest, any such "contract" would not have been authorized by a law enacted by the Legislature during his or her term. See Jones, 827 So.2d at 699-700; Georgia Dep't of Med. Assistance v. Allgood, 320 S.E.2d 155, 158-59 (Ga. 1984).

May a legislator receive an expense reimbursement for foster children in their care administered by a state agency?

Proposed guidance: Yes. Even if one considered such reimbursements a "contract" in which a legislator (or former legislator within one year) has an interest, any such "contract" would not have been authorized by a law enacted by the Legislature during his or her term.

May a legislator or a business owned by a legislator purchase or receive goods or services, including state park passes, lodging, and licenses, from the state when such goods or services are offered to the general public on the same terms?

Proposed guidance: Yes. Even if one considered such items to be a "contract" in which a legislator (or former legislator within one year) has an interest, any such "contract" would not have been authorized by a law enacted by the Legislature during his or her term.

How do the instances detailed above apply to a legislator's spouse, dependent, or a family member?

Proposed guidance: By its plain terms, the Contracts Clause applies to legislators. It does not apply to a legislator's spouse, dependents, or family members. If the framers intended it to apply to anyone other than legislators, they would have said so. It is the role of the Legislature to enact any additional conflict of interest laws or rules to address such situations as a matter of public policy.

It is conceivable that the interest of a legislator's spouse in a contract authorized by a law passed by the Legislature during the legislator's term may amount to an "indirect" interest in that contract by the legislator within the meaning of the Contract Clause in certain factual circumstances. Such a determination is situation-specific.

But a spouse's mere employment with the state, county, or related entity surely does not run afoul of the Contracts Clause. "There has been no case cited to us from any jurisdiction which suggests a possible conflict of interest because a Legislator's spouse is employed by the state, as one of a large class." Frazier, 504 So.2d at 698; see also S.D. Const., Art. XXI, § 5; SDCL 25-2-4; Field v. Field, 2020 S.D. 51, ¶17, 949 N.W.2d 221, 224 (spouses are entitled to maintain separate property and do with it as they see fit); Scherer v. Scherer, 2015 S.D. 32, ¶6, 864 N.W.2d 490, 493 (outside context of divorce, support, and homestead, marriage does not vest in one spouse an interest in other's separate property").

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE, the South Dakota Legislature very respectfully requests that this Honorable Court take up the questions framed by the Governor and provide advisory guidance according to the plain meaning of the text of Article III, Section 12 of the South Dakota Constitution.

Respectfully submitted this 12th day of December, 2023.

These words, as here compared, have reference to historical documents. We call a document genutine when It can be traced back ultimately to the author or authors from whom it professes to emanate. We call a document authentic (in the primary sense of the terus) when, on the ground of its being thus traced back, it may be relied on as true and authoritative; and in this sense the term is used in respect to legal instruments. But in general literature, in has the wider signification. We can often of the person with whom with whom the control of the person with whom the collateral evidence of the most unquestionable nature; and such statements are accordingly spoken of as authentic. This secondary sense of the term is now the one most in use. Thus we speak of an authentic report of facts, authentic history, &c. Hence writers on the evidences of our religion speak of the genuineness and the authenticity of the sacred Scriptures; meaning by the former that the books have come down to us uncorrupt from their original sources; and by the latter that they may be relied upon as true and authoritative in all matters of faith and practice. Bishop Watson, who took the lead in making this distinction, remarks, "A genuine book is that which relates matters of fact as they really happened. A book may be genuine without being genuine. The "listory of the Island Formosa" is a genuine book: if was written by Paslmanazar; but it is not an authentic book it his left, took shame to himself for having imposed upon the world, and confessed that it was a mere romance. "Alsons' Voyage' may be considered as an authentic book it probably contains a true naturalive of the principal events recorded in it; but it is not an authentic book (though it was long esteemed as such, and translated into different languages), for the author, in the latter part of his life, took sham

RELATING TO COMMON CARRIERS.

AN ACT to Regulate Common Carriers and the Charges for the Transportation of Passengers and Freight by Common Carriers Within the State of South Dakota, and to Confer upon the Board of Railroad Commissioners Certain Powers in Relation Thereto, and to Provide for the Enforcement of the Orders and Regulations of Said Commissioners.

Be it Enacted by the Legislature of the State of South Dakota:

§ 1. ACT APPLICABLE—WHEN—TERMS DEFINED.] The provisions of this act shall apply to the transportation of passengers and property, and to receiving, delivering, storage and handling of property wholly within this state, and shall apply to all railroads, corporations and railway companies, express companies, car companies, sleeping car companies, freight or freight line companies and to any common carrier or carriers engaged in this state in the transportation of passengers or property by railroad therein, and shall also be held to apply to shipments of property made from any point within the state, to any point within the state, whether the transportation of the same shall be wholly within the state or partly within this state and an adjoining state or states. The term "Railroad" as used in this act, shall include all bridges and ferries used or occupied in connection with any railroad and also the road in use by any corporation, receiver, trustee or other person operating a railroad, whether owned or operated under contract, agreement, lease or otherwise, and the term "transportation" shall include all instrumentalities of shipment or carriage, and the term "Railroad Corporation" contained in this act, shall be deemed and taken to mean all corporations, companies or individuals now owning or operating, or which may hereafter own or operate any railroad in whole or in part in this state; and the provisions of this act shall apply to all persons, firms and companies and to all associations of persons, whether incorporated or otherwise, that shall do business as common carriers upon any of the lines of railroad in this state (street railroads excepted) the same as to railroad corporations herein mentioned.

§ 2. Railroad commissioners—duties and powers. The railroad commissioners shall have the general supervision of all railroads in the state operated by steam, and shall inquire into any neglect or violation of the laws of this state by any railroad corporation doing business herein, or by the officers, agents or employes thereof and shall also from time to time carefully examine and inspect the condition of each railroad in this state and of its equipment, and the manner of its conduct and management, with reference to the public safety and convenience. And if any bridge shall be deemed unsafe by the commissioners, they shall notify the railroad company immediately, and it shall be the duty of said railroad company to repair and put in good order within ten days after receiving said notice, said bridge. Whenever, in the judgment of the railroad commissioners, it shall appear that any railroad corporation fails, in any respect or particular, to comply with the terms of its charter or the laws of the state, or whenever in their judgment any repairs are necessary upon its road, or any addition to its rolling stock, or any addition to or change of its stations or station houses or any change in its rates of fare for transporting freight or passengers, or any change in the mode of operating its road and conducting its business is reasonable and expedient in order to promote the security, convenience and accommodation of the public, said railroad commissioners shall inform such railroad corporations of the improvements and changes which they adjudge to be proper, by notice thereof in writing to be served by leaving a copy thereof certified by the commissioner's secretary, with any station agent, clerk, treasurer or any director of said corporation, and a report of the proceedings shall be included in the annual report of the commissioners to the legislature. Nothing in this section shall be construed as relieving any railroad company from their present responsibility or liability for damage to person or property.

§ 3. Further powers and duties of railroad commissioners.] Said commissioners shall have power in the discharge of the duties of their office, to examine any of the books, papers or documents of any such corporation, or to examine under oath or otherwise, any officer, director, agent or employe of any such corporation; they are empowered to administer oaths; and any person who may willfully obstruct said commissioners in the performance of their duties, or who may refuse to give any information within his possession that may be required by said commissioners within the line of their duty, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable, on conviction thereof, to a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, in the discretion of the court, the costs of such investigation to be first paid by the state on the certificate of said commissioners.

§ 4. COMPANY TO FURNISH CARS.] It shall be the duty of any railroad corporation when within their power to do so, and upon reasonable notice, to furnish suitable cars to any and all persons who may apply therefor, for the transportation of any and all kinds of freight, and to receive and transport such freight with all reasonable dispatch, and to provide and keep suitable facilities for the receiving and handling the same at any depot on the line of its road; and also to receive and transport in like manner, the empty or loaded cars, furnished by any connecting road, to be delivered at any station or stations on the line of its road, to be loaded or discharged, or reloaded and returned to the road so connecting and for compensation it shall not demand or receive any greater sum than is accepted by it from any other connecting railroad, for a similar service; and said railroad corporation shall not discriminate in the furnishing of cars in favor of any corporation, firm or individual.

- § 5. Charges must be reasonable.] All charges made for any service rendered or to be rendered in the transportation of passengers or property in this state, as aforesaid, or in connection therewith, or for the receiving, delivering, storage or handling of such property, shall be reasonable and just; and every unjust and unreasonable charge for such service is prohibited and declared un-
- § 6. Unjust discrimination.] If any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act, shall directly or indirectly, by any special rate, rebate, drawback or other device, charge, demand, collect, or receive from any person or persons a greater or less compensation for any service rendered, or to be rendered, in the transportation of passengers or property subject to the provisions of this act, than it charges, demands, collect or receives from any other person or persons for doing for him or them a like and contemporaneous service in the transportation of a like kind of traffic, such common carrier shall be deemed guilty of unjust discrimination, which is hereby prohibited and declared to be unlawful; this section, however is not to be construed as prohibiting a less rate per one hundred pounds in a car load lot than is charged, collected or received for the same kind of freight in less than a car load lot.
- § 7. FURTHER DISCRIMINATION.] It shall be unlawful for any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act, to make or give any preference or advantage to any particular person, company, firm, corporation or locality or any particular description of traffic, in any respect whatever, or to subject any particular person, company, firm, corporation or locality, or any particular description of traffic to any prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever; Provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any common carrier from giving preference as to time of shipment of live stock, uncured meats or other perishable property. All common carriers subject to the provisions of this act, shall, according to their respective powers, afford all reasonable, proper and equal facilities for the interchange of traffic between their respective lines, and for the receiving, forwarding and switching of cars, and the receiving, forwarding and delivering of passengers and property to and from their several lines and to and from other lines and places connected therewith; and shall not discriminate in their accommodations, rates and charges between such connecting lines. And any common carrier may be required to switch and transfer cars for another for the purpose of being loaded or unloaded, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the board of railroad commissioners.

§ 8. Certain charges unlawful. It shall be unlawful for any common carrier, subject to the provisions of this act, to charge or receive any greater compensation in the aggregate for the transportation of passengers or of a like kind of property for a shorter than for a longer distance over its railroads, all or any portion of the shorter haul being included within the longer. And said common carrier shall charge no more for transporting freight to and from any point on its railroad than a fair and just rate as compared with the price it charges for the same kind of freight transportations to or from any other point.

§ 9. Unlawful to prevent competition.] It shall be unlawful for any common carrier, subject to the provisions of this act, to enter into any contract, agreement or combination with any other common carrier or carriers for the pooling of freight of different and competing railroads, or divide between them the aggregate or net proceeds of the earnings of such railroads or any portion thereof; and in case of an agreement for the pooling of freight as aforesaid each day of its continuance shall be deemed a separate offense.

§ 10. Must print and post schedules.] Every common carrier subject to the provisions of this act, shall print and keep for public inspection, schedules showing the rates, fares and charges for the transportation of passengers and property which any such common carrier has established, and which are in force at the time upon its railroads as defined by the first section of this act. The schedules printed as aforesaid, by any such common carrier, shall plainly state the place upon its railroads between which property and passengers will be carried, and shall contain the classification of freight in force upon such railroad, and shall aiso state separately any terminal charges and any rules or regulations which in any wise change, affect or determine any part of the aggregate of such aforesaid rates, fares and charges. Such schedules shall be plainly printed in large type of at least the size of ordinary pica, and a copy for the use of the public shall be kept in every freight office and passenger station, on such railroad, where it can be conveniently inspected, and such common carrier shall keep a printed notice posted in every such freight office and passenger station indicating where therein such schedule can be found. No advance shall be made in the rates and charges which have been established and published as aforesaid by any common carrier, in compliance with the requirements of this section, except after ten days public notice, which shall plainly state the changes proposed to be made in the schedules then in force, and the time when the increased rates, fares or charges will go into effect; and the proposed changes shall be shown by printing new schedules, or shall be plainly indicated upon the schedules in force at the time and kept for public inspection. Reduction in such published rates, fares or charges may be made without previous public notice, but whenever any such reduction is made, notice of the same shall immediately be publicly posted and the changes made shall immediately be made public by printing new schedules, or shall immediately be plainly indicated upon the schedules at the time in force and kept for public inspection. And when any such common carrier shall have established and published its rates, fares and charges in compliance with the provisions of this section, it shall be unlawful for such common carrier to charge, demand, collect or receive from any person or persons a greater or less compensation for the transportation of passengers or property, or for any services in connection therewith than is specified in such published schedules of rates, fares and charges as may at the time be in force. Every common carrier subject to the provisions of this act shall file with the board of railroad commissioners of this state, copies of its schedules of rates, fares and charges which have been established and published in compliance with the requirements of this section, and shall promptly notify said commissioners of all changes made in the same. Every such common carrier shall also file with said commissioners, copies of all contracts agreements or arrangements with other common carriers in relation to any traffic affected by the provisions of this act to which it may be a party. And in cases where passengers and freight pass over continuous lines or routes in this state operated by more than one common carrier, and the several common carriers operating such lines or routes have established joint tariffs or rates or fares or charges for such continuous lines or routes, copies of such joint tariffs shall also, in like manner, be filed with said commissioners. Such joint rates, fares and charges on such continuous lines so filed as aforesaid shall be made public by such common carriers, when directed by said commissioners, in so far as may in the judgment of the commissioners be deemed practicable; and said commissioners shall from time to time prescribe the measures of publicity which shall be given to such rates, fares and charges, or to such part of them as they may deem it practicable for such common carrier to publish, and the places in which they shall be published; but no common carrier, party to any such joint tariff, shall be liable for the failure of any other common carrier, party thereto, to observe and adhere to the rates, fares and charges thus made and published. If any such common carrier shall neglect or refuse to file or publish its schedules or tariffs of rates, fares and charges, as provided in this section or any part of the same, such common carrier shall, in addition to other penalties herein prescribed, be subject to a writ of mandamus to be issued by any circuit court of the state in the judicial circuit wherein the principal offices of said common carrier is situated or where such offense may be committed. And if such common carrier be a foreign corporation, then such writ may be issued by any circuit court in the judicial circuit where such common carrier accepts traffic and has an agent to perform such service, to compel compliance with the aforesaid provisions of this section, and such writ shall issue in the name of the State of South Dakota at the relation or upon the petition of the said board of railroad commissioners of this state; and failure to comply with its requirements shall be punishable as and for a contempt; and shall make said corporation liable to a penalty of $500 for each day's failure to comply, and when any such writ of mandamus shall be so applied for by said commissioners, no bond shall be required of them by any court or judge, in which or before whom any such application may be made.

§ 11. Continuous carriage.] It shall be unlawful for any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act to enter into any combination, contract or agreement expressed or implied, to prevent by change of time, schedules, carriage in different cars, or by other means or devices, the carriage of freight from being continuous from the place of shipment to the place of destination in this state, and no break of bulk, stoppage or interruption made by such common carrier shall prevent the carriage of freights from being and being treated as one continuous carriage from the place of shipment to the place of destination unless such break, stoppage or interruption was made in good faith for some necessary purpose and without any intent to avoid or unnecessarily interrupt such continuous carriage or to evade any of the provisions of this act.

§ 12. Liability.] In case any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act, shall do, cause to be done or permit to be done, any act, matter or thing in this act prohibited or declared to be unlawful or shall omit to do any act, matter or thing in this act required to be done, such common carrier shall be liable to the person or persons injured thereby, for the amount of damages sustained in consequence of any such violation of the provisions of this act, if recovered without suit or if recovered by suit such common carriers shall be liable to the person or persons injured thereby for not to exceed twice the amount of damages sustained in consequence of any such violation complained of together, with costs of suit and a reasonable counsel or attorney's fee to be fixed by the court in which the same is heard on appeal or otherwise, which shall be taxed and collected as part of the costs in the case; provided that in all cases demand in writing on said common carrier shall be made for the money damages sustained before suit is brought for recovery under this section, and that no suit shall be brought until the expiration of thirty days after such demand.

Any person or persons claiming to be damaged by any common carrier, subject to the provisions of this act, may either make complaint to the board of railroad commissioners of this state or may bring suit in his or their own behalf for the recovery of damages for which any such common carrier may be liable under the provisions of this act in any court of this state of competent jurisdiction, but such person or persons shall not have the right to pursue both of said remedies at the same time. In any such action brought for the recovery of damages the court before whom the same shall be pending may compel any director, officer, receiver, trustee or agent of the corporation or company, defendant in such suit, to attend, appear and testify in such case and may compel the production of the books and papers of such corporation or company party to any such suit.

§ 14. VIOLATION—PENALTY.] Except as otherwise specially provided for in Sections 26 to 31 inclusive, of this act, and unl-ss relieved from the consequences of a violation of the law as provided in Section 18 of this act, any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act, or whenever any such common carrier is a corporation, any director or officer thereof, or any receiver, trustee, lessee, agent or person acting for or employed by such corporation who, alone or with any other corporation, company, person or party shall willfully do, or cause to be done, or shall willingly suffer or permit to be done any act, matter or thing in this act prohibited or declared to be unlawful, or who shall aid or abet therein, or shall willfully omit or fail to do any act, matter or thing in this act required to be done, or shall cause or willingly suffer or permit any act, matter or thing so directed or required by this act to be done, not to be so done, or shall aid or abet any such omission or failure, or shall be guilty of any infraction of this act, or shall aid or abet therein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall upon conviction thereof in any circuit court of this state be subject to a fine not to exceed five thousand dollars and not less than five hundred dollars for each offense, § 15. Duties and powers of railroad commissioners.] It shall be the duty of, and the board of railroad commissioners of this state shall have authority to inquire into the management of the business of all common carriers subject to the provisions of this act and shall keep itself informed as to the manner and method in which the same is conducted, and shall have the right to obtain from such common carriers full and complete information necessary to enable the said commissioners to perform the duties and carry out the object for which said board was created and which are contemplated by this act; and for the purpose of this act the said commissioners shall have power to require the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of all books, papers, tariffs, schedules, contracts, agreements and documents relating to any matter under investigation, and to that end may invoke the aid of any court of this state, in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, papers and documents under the provisions of this section. And any court of this state within the jurisdiction of which such inquiry is carried on, shall in case of contumacy, or refusal to obey a subporna or other process issued by said railroad commissioners to any common carrier or person subject to the provisions of this act, or other person, issue an order requiring such common carrier or other person to appear before said commissioners (and produce books and papers if so ordered) and give evidence touching or in relation to the matter in question; and any failure to obey such order of the court shall be punished by such court as a contempt thereof.

§ 16. MAY PETITION RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS.] Any person, firm, corporation or association, or any mercantile, agricultural or manufacturing society, or any body politic or municipal organization, complaining of anything done or omitted to be done, by any common carrier subject to the provisions of this act in contravention of the provisions thereof, may apply to said commissioners by petition, which shall briefly state the facts, whereupon a statement of the complaint thus made with the damages, if any are alleged, shall be forwarded by the said commissioners to such common carrier, who shall be called upon to satisfy the complaint, or to answer the same in writing within a reasonable time to be specified by the commissioners. If such common carrier shall within the time specified, make reparation for the injury alleged to have been done, or shall correct the wrong complained of, said carrier shall be relieved of liability to the complainant only for the particular violation of law thus complained of. If such common carrier shall not satisfy the complaint, within the time specified, or there shall appear to be any reasonable ground for investigating said complaint, it shall be the duty of said commissioners to investigate the matters complained of, in such manner and by such means as said commissioners shall deem proper, and said commissioners whenever they may have sufficient reason to believe that any common carrier is violating any of the provisions of this act, shall at once institute an inquiry in the same manner and to the same effect as though complaint had been made. No complaint shall at any time be dismissed because of the absence of direct damage to the complainant or petitioners.

§ 17. Report of investigation.] Whenever an investigation shall be made by said commissioners after notice as provided by Sec. 16 of this act, it shall be their duty to make a report in writing in respect thereto, which shall include the findings of fact upon which the conclusions of the commissioners are based, together with its or their recommendations or orders as to what reparation if any, should be made by the common carrier to any party or parties who may be found to have been injured; and such finding so made, shall thereafter in all judicial proceedings be deemed and taken as prima facie evidence as to each and every fact found. All reports of investigation made by said commissioners shall be entered of record and a copy thereof shall be furnished to the party who may have complained, and any other person or persons directly interested, and to any common carrier that may have been complained of.

§ 18. Copy of report given company. If in any case in which an investigation shall be made by said commissioners it shall be made to appear to the satisfaction of the commissioners, either by the testimony of witnesses or other evidence, that anything has been done or omitted to be done in violation of the provisions of this act or of any law cognizable by said commissioners, by any common carrier, or that any injury or damage has been sustained by the party or parties complaining, or by other parties aggrieved in consequence of any such violation, it shall be the duty of such commissioners forthwith to cause a copy of their report in respect thereto to be delivered to such common carrier, together with a notice to said common carrier to cease and desist from such violation or to make reparation for the injury so found to have been done, or both within a reasonable time to be specified by the commissioners; and if within the time specified it shall be made to appear to the commissioners that such common carrier has ceased from such violation of law, and has made reparation for the injury found to have been done in compliance with the report and notice of the commissioners or to the satisfaction of the party complaining, a statement to that effect shall be entered of record by the commissioners and the said common carrier shall thereupon be relieved from further liability for such particular violation of law.

§ 19. Refusal to obey orders of commissioners—power of courts.] Whenever any common carrier as defined in and subject to the provisions of this act shall violate or refuse or neglect to obey any lawful order or requirement of the said board of railroad commissioners, it shall be the duty of said commissioners and lawful for any company or person interested in such order or requirement, to apply in a summary way, by petition to the circuit court in any county of this state in which the common carrier complained of has its principal office, or in any county through which its line of road passes or is operated, or in which the violation or disobedience of such order or requirement may happen, alleging such violation or disobedience as the case may be; and the said court shall have power to hear and determine the matter, on such short notice to the common carrier complained of as the court shall deem reasonable, and such notice may be served on such common carrier, his or its officers, agents or servants in such manner as the court shall direct; and said court shall proceed to hear and determine the matter speedily as a court of equity, and without the formal pleadings and proceedings applicable to ordinary suits in equity, but in such manner as to do justice in the premises; and to this end such court shall have power if it think fit to direct and prosecute, in such mode and by such persons as it may appoint, all such inquiries as the court may think needful to enable it to form a just judgment in the matter of such petition; and on such hearing the report of said commissioners shall be prima facie evidence of the matter therein, or in any order made by them stated; and if it be made to appear to such court on such hearing or on the report of any such person or persons, that the order or requirement of said commissioners drawn in the question has been violated or disobeyed, it shall be lawful for such court to issue a writ of injunction or other proper process mandatory or otherwise, to restrain such common carrier from further continuing such violation or disobedience of such order or requirement of said commissioners and enjoining obedience to the same; and in case of any disobedience of any such writ of injunction or other proper process, mandatory or otherwise, it shall be lawful for such courts to issue writs of attachment, or any other process of said court incident or applicable to writs of injunction or other proper process, mandatory or otherwise, against such common carrier, and if a corporation, against one or more of the directors, officers or agents of the same, or against any owner, lessee, trustee, receiver or other person failing to obey such writ of injunction or other process, mandatory or otherwise; and said court may if it shall think fit, make an order directing such common carrier or other person so disobeying such writ of injunction or other process, mandatory or otherwise, to pay such sum of money not exceeding for each carrier or person in default the sum of one thousand dollars for every day after a day to be named in the order that such carrier or other person shall fail to obey such injunction or other process, mandatory or otherwise; and such moneys shall, upon the order of the court, be paid into the treasury of the county in which the action was commenced, and one-half thereof shall be transferred by the county treasurer to the state treasury; and the payment thereof may without prejudice to any other mode of recovering the same be enforced by attachment or order, in the nature of a writ of execution, in like manner as if the same had been recovered by a final decree in personam in such court, saving to the commissioners and to any other party or person interested in the right to appeal to the supreme court of the state, under the same regulations now provided by law in relation to appeals to said court as to security for such appeal, except that in no case shall security for such appeal be required when the same is taken by said commissioners; but no appeal to said supreme court shall operate to stay or supersede the order of the court, or the execution of any writ or process thereon; and such court may in every such matter order the payment of such costs and attorney and counsel fees as shall be deemed reasonable. Whenever such petition shall be filed or presented, or be prosecuted by the said commissioners, or by their direction, they may require the attorney general of the state to prosecute the same, and in such prosecution he shall have the right to have the assistance of the state's attorney of any county in which any such proceedings are instituted; and it is hereby made the duty of any state's attorney to render such assistance; or the said commissioners may employ any other attorney or attorneys to prosecute the same or assist the attorney general of the state in such prosecution; and the costs and expenses on the part of said commissioners of any such prosecution shall be paid out of the appropriations for the expenses of said board of commissioners.

§ 20. Commissioners to make schedules of maximum rates AND FARES—PUBLICATION OF—TAKE EFFECT WHEN. | The board of railway commissioners of this state are hereby empowered and directed to make for each of the railroad corporations doing business in this state, as soon as practicable, a schedule of reasonable maximum fares and rates of charges for the transportation of passengers, freight and cars on each of said railroads, and said power to make schedules shall include the power of classification of all such freights, and it shall be the duty of said commissioners to make such classification. Provided, the maximum compensation per mile for the transportation of any person with ordinary baggage, not exceeding one hundred and fifty pounds, shall not be greater than three cents per mile between points where the distance traversed is entirely within this state, except upon narrow gauge railroads and said railroad commissioners shall for the purpose of making a maximum fare and charges for the transportation of passengers and freight, classify said railroads as far as practicable according to the gross amount of their respective annual earnings per mile within the state for the three years preceding the time of making the classification, and said classification may be changed from time to time as the railroad commissioners may order. Said schedules so made by said commissioners shall in all suits brought against such railroad corporations, wherein is in any way involved the charges of any such railroad corporation for the transportation of passengers and freight or cars or unjust discrimination in relation thereto, be deemed and taken in all courts of this state as prima facie evidence that the rates and passenger fares therein fixed are reasonable and just maximum rates of charges for the transportation of passengers, freight and cars upon the railroads for which said schedules may have been respectively prepared. Said commissioners shall from time to time, and as often as circumstances may require, change and revise said schedules. When any schedule shall have been made or revised as aforesaid, it shall be the duty of said commissioners to cause notice thereof to be published for two successive weeks in two public newspapers published, one in the county of Minnehaha and one in the county of Lawrence in this state, which notice shall state the date of the taking effect of said schedule, and said schedule shall take effect at the time so stated in suclr notice, and a printed copy of said revised schedule shall be conspicuously posted by such common carrier in each freight office and passenger depot upon its line or lines. All such schedules, so made, shall be received and held in all such suits as prima facie the schedule of said commissioners without further proof than the production of the schedule desired to be used as evidence, with a certificate of said railroad commissioners, that the same is a true copy of the schedule prepared by them for the railroad company or corporation therein named, and that notice of making the same has been published as required by law; Provided, that before finally fixing and deciding what the original maximum rates and fares and classifications shall be, it shall be the duty of the railroad commissioners to publish ten day's notice in two daily papers published, one in the county of Minnehaha and one in the county of Lawrence, setting forth in such notice that at a certain time and place they will proceed to fix and determine such maximum rates, fares and classification; and they shall at such time and place and as soon as practicable, afford to any person, firm or corporation, or common carrier who may desire it, an opportunity to make an explanation or showing or to furnish information to said commissioners on the subject of determining and fixing such maximum rates and classification; and in any event the original schedule of rates and classification of freights on all lines of railroads in South Dakota shall be fixed and shall go into effect on the first day of July, 1897.

§ 21. When rates are too high or discriminating—duty of commissioners.] Whenever any person upon his own behalf, or class of persons similarly situated, or any firm, corporation or association or any mercantile, agricultural or manufacturing society, or any body politic or municipal organization, shall make complaint to said board of railroad commissioners, that the rate or fares charged or published by any railroad company, or the maximum rates and fares fixed by said commissioners in the schedules of rates and fares made by them under the provisions of section 20 of this act, is unreasonably high or discriminating, it shall be the duty of said commissioners to immediately investigate the matter of such complaint. If such complaint appears to be well founded and not trivial in character, the board shall fix a day for hearing the same and shall notify the railroad company of the time and place of such hearing by mailing a notice properly directed to any division superintendent, general or assistant superintendent, general manager, president or secretary of such company, which notice shall contain the substance of the complaint so made; and the board shall also notify the person or persons complaining, of such time and place.

§ 22. REASONABLE RATES OF FARES—HOW DETERMINED. Upon such hearing so provided for, the said commissioners shall receive whatever evidence, statements or agreements either party may offer or make pertinent to the matter under investigation; and the burden of proof shall not be held to be upon the person or persons making the complaint, but the commissioners shall add to the showing made at such hearing whatever information they may have, or can secure from any source, whatsoever, and the person or persons complaining shall be entitled to introduce any published schedules of rates and fares of any railroad company, or evidence of rates and fares actually charged by any railroad company, for substantially the same kind of service, whether in this state or any other state; and the lowest rates and fares published or charged by any railroad company for substantially the same kind of service, whether in this state or any other state, shall, at the instance of the person or persons complaining, be accepted as prima facie evidence of a reasonable rate or fares for the services under investigation, and if the railroad company complained of is operating a line of railroad beyond the State of South Dakota, or if it appears that it has a traffic arrangement with any such railroad company, then the commissioners in determining what is a reasonable rate or fares, shall take into consideration the charge made or rate established by such railroad company, or the company with which it has traffic arrangements for carrying freight and passengers from beyond the state to points within the state. and from within the state to points beyond the state; and if such company be operating a line of railroad beyond the state they shall take into consideration the rate charged or established for a substantially similar or greater service by such company in any other state in which said railroad company operates a line of rail-

§ 23. Decision of commissioners—schedule prima facie evidence in court.] After such hearing and investigation the said commissioners shall fix and determine a reasonable maximum charge to be thereafter made by the railroad company or common carriers complained of and the said commissioners shall render their decision in writing; and shall spread the same at length in the record to be kept for that purpose; such decision shall specifically set out the sums or rate which the railroad company or common carrier so complained of, may thereafter charge or receive for the service therein named and including a classification of freight, and the said commissioners shall not be limited in their said decision and the schedule to be contained therein to the specific case or cases complained of, but it shall be extended to all rates and fares between points in this state, and whatever part of the line of railroad of such company or common carrier within this state as may have been fairly within the scope of such investigation, and any such decision so made and entered on record of said commissioners, including any such schedules and classifications, shall when duly authenticated be received and held in all suits brought against any such railroad corporation or common carrier wherein is in any way involved the charges of any such corporation or common carrier mentioned in said decisions, in any of the courts of this state, as prima facie evidence that the rates and fares therein fixed are reasonable maximum rates and fares the same as the schedules made by the commissioners as provided in Section 20 hereof; and the rates, fares and classifications so established after such hearing and investigation shall from time to time thereafter upon complaint duly made be subject to revision by said commissioners the same as any other rates, fares and classifications.

§ 24. Place of proceedings—quorum—may amend rules RECORD KEPT-MAY ADMINISTER OATH. That the said board of railroad commissioners may in all cases conduct its proceedings, when not otherwise particularly prescribed by law, in such manner and places as will best conduce to the proper dispatch of business and to the ends of justice. A majority of the commissioners shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but no commissioner shall participate in any hearing or proceedings in which he has any pecuniary interest. Said commissioners may from time to time make or amend such general rules or orders as may be requisite for the order and regulation of proceedings before it, including forms and notices and the service thereof, which shall conform as nearly as may be to those in use in courts of this state. Any party may appear before said board of commissioners and be heard in person or by attorney. Every vote and official action of said board of commissioners shall be entered of record and its proceedings shall be public upon the request of either party or any person interested. Said board of railroad commissioners shall have an official seal, which shall be judicially noticed, and every commissioner shall have the right to administer oaths and affirmations in any proceeding pending before said board.

§ 25. Annual report to be made by company. The said board of railroad commissioners is hereby authorized to require annual reports from all common carriers subject to the provisions of this act, to fix the time and prescribe the manner in which such reports shall be made, and to require from such carriers specific answers to all questions upon which the said commissioners may need information. Such annual reports shall show in detail the amount of the capital stock issued, the amounts paid therefor and the manner of the payment of the same, the dividends paid, the surplus fund, if any, and the number of stockholders, the funded and floating debts and the interest paid thereon, the costs and value of the carrier's property, franchises and equipments and the actual cost per mile in building the road, the number of employes and the salaries paid each class, the amounts expended for improvements each year, how and where expended and the character of such improvements, the earnings and receipts from each branch of business, and from all sources, the operating and other expenses, the balance of profit and loss, and a complete exhibit of the financial operations of the carrier each year including an annual balance sheet, and copies of all reports made by any station agent of said railroad corporation in this state to the auditor of said corporation. Such reports shall also contain such information in relation to rates or regulations, concerning fares or freights or agreements, arrangements or contracts with other common carriers as the commissioners may require. Such reports shall also contain such other statistics of the road and of its transportation business for the year ending upon the 30th day of June of each year as the commissioners shall require, and all such reports shall be made to said board of railroad commissioners on or before the 15th day of September of each year.

§ 26. Extortion defined.] If any railroad corporation or common carrier, subject to the provisions of this act, shall charge, collect, demand or receive more than a fair and reasonable rate of toll or compensation for the transportation of passengers or freight of any description, or for the use and transportation of any railroad car upon its track, or any of the branches thereof, or upon any railroad within this state which it has the right, license or permission to use, operate or control, or shall make any unjust and unreasonable charge prohibited in Section 5 of this act, the same shall be deemed guilty of extortion, and shall be dealt with as hereinafter provided, and if any such railroad corporation (or common carrier) shall be found guilty of any unjust discrimination as defined in Section 6 of this act, upon conviction thereof, shall be dealt with as hereinafter provided.

§ 27. Commissioners may require additional reports.] The board of railroad commissioners is also hereby authorized to require of any and all common carriers, subject to the provisions of this act, such other reports, besides the annual reports hereby required, as in the judgment of said board of commissioners shall be deemed just and reasonable. Such reports shall be in such form and concerning such subjects and be from such sources as the commissioners shall require, except as otherwise provided herein. The time when such report shall be filed shall be fixed by the board of railroad commissioners. Any corporation, company or individual owning or operating a railroad within this state which shall fail, neglect or refuse to make any of the reports provided for herein by the date fixed herein, or that fixed by the board of railroad commissioners, shall be subject to and pay a penalty in the sum of $100 for each and every day of delay in making such reports after the date fixed.

§ 28. Unjust discrimination.] If any such railroad corporation shall charge, collect or receive for the transportation of any passenger or freight of any description upon its railroad for any distance within the state, a greater amount of toll or compensation than is at the same time charged, collected or received for the transportation in the same direction of any passenger or like quantity of freight of the same class over a greater distance of the same railroad; or if it shall charge, collect or receive at any point upon its railroad a higher rate of toil or compensation for receiving, handling or delivering freight of the same class and quantity than it shall at the same time charge, collect or receive for the transportation of any passenger or freight of any description over its railroad, a greater amount as toll or compensation than shall at the same time be charged, collected or received by it for the transportation of any passenger or like quantity of freight of the same class being transported in the same direction over any portion of the same railroad of equal distance; or if it shall charge, collect or receive from any person or persons a higher or greater amount of toll or compensation than it shall at the same time charge, collect or receive from any other person or persons for receiving, handling or delivering freight of the same class and like quantity, at the same point upon its railroad, or if it shall charge, collect or receive from any person or persons for the transportation of any freight upon its railroad, a higher or greater rate of toll or compensation than it shall, at the same time, charge, collect or receive from any other person or persons for the transportation of the like quantity of freight of the same class, being transported from the same point in the same direction over equal distances of the same railroad, or if it shall charge, collect or receive from any person or persons for the use and transportation of any railroad car or cars upon its railroad, for any distance, a greater amount of toll or compensation than is at the same time charged, collected or received from any other person or persons, for the use and transportation of any railroad car of the same class or number, for a like purpose, being transported in the same direction, over a greater distance of the same railroad; or if it shall charge, collect or receive from any person or persons, for the use and transportation of any railroad car or cars upon its railroad, a higher or greater compensation in the aggregate, than it shall, at the same time charge, collect or receive from any other person or persons for the use and transportation of any railroad car or cars for the same class for a like purpose, being transported from the same original point, in the same direction, over an equal distance of the same railroad; all such discriminating rates, charges, collections or receipts whether made directly or by means of any rebate, drawback, or other shift or evasion, shall be deemed and taken against such railroad corporation, as prima facie evidence of the unjust discriminations prohibited by the provisions of this act; and it shall not be deemed a sufficient excuse or justification of such discrimination on the part of said railroad corporation that the railroad station or point at which it shall charge, collect or receive less compensation in the aggregate for the transportation of such passenger or freight or for the use and transportation of such railroad car the greater distance, than for the shorter, distance, is a railroad station or point at which there exists competition with any other railroad or means of transportation. This section shall not be construed so as to exclude other evidence tending to show any unjust discrimination in freight and passenger rates. The provisions of this section shall extend and apply to any railroad, the branches thereof, and any road or roads which any railroad corporation has the right, license or permission to use, operate or control wholly or in part within this state; Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to prevent railroad corporations from issuing commutation, excursion or thousand mile tickets; Provided, the same are issued alike to all applying therefor.

§ 29. MAY GRANT CONCESSIONS OR SPECIAL BULES—WHEN. It shall be unlawful for any such common carrier to charge, collect, demand or receive more for transporting a car of freight than it at the same time charges, collects, demands or receives per car for several cars of a like class of freight over the same railroad, for the same distance, in the same direction, or to charge, collect, demand or receive more for transporting a ton of freight than it charges, collects, demands or receives per ton for several tons of freight under a car load of a like class of freight over the same railroad for the same distance, in the same direction, or to charge, collect, demand or receive more for transporting a hundred pounds of freight than it charges, collects, demands or receives per hundred for several hundred pounds of freight, under a ton, of a like class of freight over the same railroad, for the same distance, in the same direction; all such discriminating rates, charges, collections or receipts, whether made directly or by means of any rebate, drawback, or other shift or evasion, shall be deemed and taken against such railroad company as prima facie evidence of the unjust discrimination prohibited by this act; Provided, however, that for the protection and development of any new industry within this state, such railroad company may grant concessions or special rates for any agreed number of carloads, but such special rates aforesaid shall first be approved by the board of railroad commissioners, and a copy thereof filed in the office thereof.

§ 30. Fine for extortion and unjust discrimination as to passenger or freight rates for the use and transportation of railroad cars, or in receiving, handling or delivering freights, shall upon conviction thereof be fined in any sum not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 for the first offense, and for every subsequent offense not less than $5,000 nor more than $10,000, such fine to be imposed in a criminal prosecution by indictment, or shall be subject to the liability prescribed in the next succeeding section to be recovered as therein provided.

§ 31. Penalty for first and subsequent offenses.] Any such railroad corporation guilty of extortion or of making any unjust discrimination as to passenger or freight rates or the rates for the use and transportation of railroad cars, or in receiving, handling or delivering freights, shall forfeit and pay to the state of South Dakota not less than $1,000 nor more than $5,000 for the first offense and not less than $5,000 nor more than $10,000 for every subsequent offense to be recovered in an action by proceedings instituted in the name of the State of South Dakota. And the release from liability or penalty provided for in Section 18 of this act, shall not apply to either a criminal prosecution under the last preceding section or a civil action brought under this section.

§ 32. Suits to be brought—when.] Whenever said railroad commissioners have good reason to believe that any railroad corporation or common carrier subject to the provisions of this act has been guilty of extortion or unjust discrimination and thereby become liable to the penalties prescribed in Sections 30 and 31 hereof, it shall be their duty to immediately cause suits to be commenced and prosecuted against any such railroad corporation or common carrier. Such suits and prosecutions may be instituted in any county of this state through or into which the line of the railroad corporation sued for violation of this act may extend. No such suits commenced by said commissioners shall be dismissed unless the said commissioners shall consent thereto, and the court may in its discretion give preference to such suits over all other business except criminal cases.

§ 33. Not applicable in certain cases.] Nothing in this act shall apply to the carriage, storage or handling of property free or at reduced rates for the United States or this state or municipal governments for charitable purposes, or to and from fairs and expositions for exhibition thereat, or for the employes of such common carriers or their families, or private property or goods for the family use of the employes of such common carriers, or the issuance of mileage, excursion or commutation passenger tickets. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit any common carrier from giving reduced rates to ministers of religion, or to prevent railroads from giving free carriage to their own officers and employes and their families dependent upon said officer or employe for support, and to persons in charge of live stock being shipped from the point of shipment to destination and return, or to prevent the principal officers of any railroad company or companies from exchanging passes or tickets with other railroad companies for their officers and employes; and nothing in this act contained shall in any way abridge or alter the remedies now existing at common law or by statute, but the provisions of this act are in addition to such remedies; Provided, that no pending litigation shall in any way be effected by this act.

§ 34. Free transportation for certain persons.] The railroad commissioners and their secretary shall have the right of free transportation in the performance of their duties concerning railroads, on all railroads and railroad trains in this state, and they may take with them experts or other agents whose services they may require and who shall in like manner be transported free of charge.

§ 35. Charges may be less for joint shipment.] This act shall not be construed to prohibit the making of rates of two or more railroad companies for the transportation of property over two or more of their respective lines of railroad within this state, and a less charge by each of said railroad companies for its portion of such joint shipment than it charges for a shipment for the same distance wholly over its own lines within the state, shall not be considered a violation of this act, and shall not render such railroad company liable to any of the penalties of this act, but the provisions of this section shall not be construed to permit railroad companies establishing joint rates, to make by such joint rates any unjust discrimination between the different shipping points or stations upon their respective lines between which joint rates are established, and any such unjust discrimination shall be punished in the manner and by the penalties provided by this act.

§ 36. Joint through rates.] All railroad companies doing business in this state shall upon the demand of any person or persons interested, establish reasonable joint through rates for the transportation of freight between points upon their respective lines within this state, and shall receive and transport freight and cars over such route or routes as the shipper shall direct. Carload lots shall be transferred without unloading from the cars in which shipments were first made, unless such unloading in other cars shall be done without charge therefor to the shipper or receiver of such carload lots, and such transfer be made without unreasonable delay, and less than carload lots shall be transferred into the connecting railroads' cars at cost, which shall be included in and made a part of the joint rate adopted by such railroad companies or established as provided by this act. When shipments of freight to be transported between different points within this state are required to be carried by two or more railroad companies operating connecting lines, such railroad companies shall transport the same at reasonable through rates and shall at all times give the same facilities and accommodations to local or state traffic as they give to interstate traffic over their lines of road.

§ 37. Duty of commissioners in case of failure to make JOINT THROUGH RATES.] In the event that said railroad companies shall fail to establish through joint rates or fail to establish and charge reasonable rates for such through shipments, it shall be the duty of the board of railroad commissioners, and they are hereby directed upon the application of any person or persons interested, to establish reasonable joint rates for the shipment of freight and cars over two or more connecting lines of railroad in this state, and in the making of such rates and in changing or revising the same, they shall be governed as near as may be, by all the provisions of this act and shall take into consideration the average of rates charged by said railroad companies for shipments within this state, for like distances over their respective lines, and rates charged by the railroad companies operating such connecting lines for joint interstate shipment for like distances. The rates established by the board of railroad commissioners shall go into effect within ten days after the same are promulgated by said board; and from and after that time the schedule of rates shall be prima facie evidence in all of the courts of this state that the joint rates therein fixed are reasonable and just maximum rates for the transportation of freight and cars upon the railroads for which such schedules have been fixed.

§ 38. Commissioners to notify companies.] Before the promulgation of such rates as provided in Section 37 of this act, the board of railroad commissioners shall notify the railroad companies interested in the schedule of joint rates fixed by them, and they shall give said railroad companies a reasonable time thereafter to agree upon a division of the charges provided for in such schedule, and in the event of the failures of said railroad companies to agree upon a division and to notify the board of such agreement, the board of railroad commissioners shall after a hearing of the companies interested, decide the same, taking into consideration the value of terminal facilities and all the circumstances of the haul, and the division so determined by the board shall, in all controversies or suits between railroad companies interested, be prima facie evidence of a just and reasonable division of such charges.

§ 39. Platform to be established—station house—how kept—shall unite and connect tracks.] All railroad corporations shall at all points of connection, crossing or intersection with the roads of other corporations unite with such corporations in establishing and maintaining suitable platforms and station houses for the convenience of passengers, desiring to transfer from one road to the other, and for the transfer of passengers, baggage or freight, whenever the same shall be ordered by the railroad commission; and such corporation shall, when so ordered by the railroad commission, keep such depot or passenger house warmed, lighted and open to the ingress and egress of all passengers a reasonable time before the arrival and until after the departure of all trains carrying passengers on said railroad or railroads; and said railroad companies so connecting, crossing or intersecting, shall stop all trains at said depot at said connections, crossings or intersections, for the transfer of passengers, baggage and freight when so ordered by the railroad commission, and the expense of constructing and maintaining such station house and platforms shall be paid by such corporations in such proportions as may be fixed by the order of the railroad commission. Such corporations connecting by intersection as aforesaid, shall also, whenever ordered by the railroad commission so unite and connect the tracks of said several corporations as to permit the transfer from the track of one corporation to the other of loaded or unloaded cars designed for transportation upon both roads.

§ 40. Penalty for non-compliance.] Any railroad corporation or company which, after having received ninety days' notice by the railroad commissioners shall neglect or refuse to comply with the provisions of Section 39 of this act, shall, for every day such corporation or company fails, neglects or refuses to comply therewith, forfeit and pay the sum of $25, which may be recovered in the name of the State of South Dakota, for the use of the school fund of the county wherein such crossing or intersection is situated; and it shall be the duty of the states attorney of the proper county to prosecute for and recover the same.

§ 41. Duty of attorney general of the State of South Dakota shall at all times when requested, give the railroad commissioners such counsel and advice as they may from time to time require, and it is hereby made his duty to institute and prosecute whenever requested by the railroad commissioners, any and all suits which said railroad commissioners may deem it expedient and proper to institute, and he shall render to such railroad commissioners all counsel, advice and opinions in writing, when requested, as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, or of any law of this state, according to the true intent and meaning thereof. It shall likewise be the duty of the states attorney of any county in which suit is instituted or prosecuted, to aid in the prosecution of the same to a final issue upon the request of such commission. Said commissioners are hereby also authorized, when in their opinion it is necessary or proper, to employ any and all additional legal counsel to assist them in the discharge of their duties and to conduct and prosecute any and all suits they may determine to bring under the provisions of this act or any law of this state, or to assist the attorney general in the prosecution of the same.

§ 42. Additional Penalty.] In addition to any penalty imposed or remedy provided in this act, it is further provided, that if any railroad corporation shall willfully continue to neglect or refuse to comply with the provisions of this act or with any reasonable order or regulation of the board of railroad commissioners, such neglect or refusal shall cause a forfeiture of the franchises of said corporation, if the same be a domestic corporation, and if the same be a foreign corporation such neglect or refusal shall cause a forfeiture of all right and privilege to transact its business within this state.

§ 43. Additional duty of attorney general of the State of South Dakota to commence an action in any court of this state of competent jurisdiction, against any railroad corporation, for the purpose of having its corporate franchise forfeited or for the purpose of having it perpetually enjoined from transacting any business within this state, whenever the board of railroad commissioners shall report to said attorney general that any railroad corporation has violated the provisions of Section 42 of this act.

§ 44. Commissioner shall willfully neglect or refuse to perform the duties imposed upon him in this act he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and in addition to the punishment provided by law, such railroad commissioner shall, upon conviction, forfeit his office.

§ 45. Repeal.] All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

act or may hereafter be provided by law.

The above bill is hereby approved except the item of $12,000 for fuel and lights for year 1898 in line 13, Section 13, page 8, appropriation for insane hospital; also the item of $13,000 for rear center building, in line 16, Section 13, page 8, appropriation for insane hospital; also the item $3,000 for boiler and power house, in line 17, Section 13, page 8, insane hospital, for the year 1897; also the item $2,000 for boiler and power house in line 17, Section 13, page 8, appropriation for insane hospital for year 1898, which items are expressly disapproved.

March 10, 1897.

CHAPTER 38

(S. B. 11)

APPROPRIATION FOR ARTESIAN WELL AT STATE UNIVERSITY

AN ACT Entitled, An Act Appropriating Money for Sinking and Equipping a Well at the State University and for Providing the Necessary Water Mains in Connection Therewith.

Be It Enacted by the Legislature of the State of South Dakota:

- § 1. That there be and is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the purpose of sinking a well at the state University and equipping the same with the proper and necessary pumping apparatus and water mains.
- § 2. The said well shall be sunk and equipped under the supervision of the regents of education, and by contract after receiving bids therefor, and the state auditor shall issue warrants on the state treasurer in payment for the sinking and equipping of said well as aforesaid upon proper verified vouchers of said regents of education, and upon presentation of such warrants the treasurer shall pay the same.
- § 3. Whereas, there are no funds available for the payment of the expense of sinking and equipping such well; and whereas, the water supply at present available for the state University buildings is wholly inadequate for fire protection and other daily necessary use, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

Approved February 1, 1911.

Section 26. The state treasurer is directed to transfer to the state general fund money from the following funds for the purpose herein indicated:

From the Highway Fund:

	Radio Communications Operations Governor's Office Operations	331,053 63,057
From	the Game, Fish & Parks Fund:	$394,110
	Radio Communications Operations Governor's Office Operations	107,996 10,209
From	the Motor Vehicle Fund:	$118,205
	Radio Communications Operations	$133,998

Section 27. The state treasurer is directed to transfer to the state general fund eight million dollars ($8,000,000), from the cement plant fund.

Section 28. In accordance with § 31-2-14 there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state highway fund, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of four million seven hundred twenty-seven thousand seven hundred sixty-seven dollars ($4,727,767), or so much thereof as may be necessary to the department of commerce and regulation, and the sum of two million two hundred fourteen thousand six hundred twenty-five dollars ($2,214,625), or so much thereof as may be necessary to the department of state development.

Section 29. In accordance with § 10-44-9.1, and notwithstanding §§ 10-44-9.4 and 10-44-9.5, there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two hundred seventy-two thousand four hundred seventy-seven dollars ($272,477), or so much thereof as may be necessary, to the department of commerce and regulation to be paid by the state auditor to the county auditors and to be distributed by the county auditors to all local fire departments in such a way that every local fire department which is certified by the secretary of commerce and regulation receives the same amount it received on July 1, 1976, as shown by the records of the division of insurance. Any part of the foregoing two hundred seventy-two thousand four hundred seventy-seven dollars ($272,477), which is not necessary to hold the local fire departments harmless in accordance with § 10-44-9.1, shall be distributed in accordance with § 10-44-9.5.

In addition, there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two hundred fifty-two thousand five hundred twenty-three dollars ($252,523), to the department of commerce and regulation to be distributed in compliance with §§ 10-44-9.4 and 10-44-9.5.

Section 30. Pursuant to Article V, section 11 of the state Constitution and § 16-2-23, the compensation of appointed court personnel for the circuit courts shall be fixed by being within the following salary ranges:

CIRCUIT COURT PERSONNEL	SALARY RANGE
Clerk of Court	12,912 - 24,812

Secretary/Administrative Assistant	8,999 - 19,989
Court Administrator	20,990 - 32,224
Bailiff	($4.41/hr.) - 12,611

Section 31. No state agency, as defined in § 1-32-1(3) shall employ any full-time equivalent employee above the maximum annualized level set for each funding source in each budget unit contained in this Act unless otherwise provided by law or approved by the special interim committee created by § 4-8A-2.

Section 32. The commissioner of finance and management shall make a cash transfer in the sum of three hundred seventy-five thousand dollars ($375,000), from the budgetary accounting system fund designated as "central services clearing fund number 923" to the budgetary accounting system fund designated as "budgetary accounting payroll A-87 revolving fund number 630" for the purpose of operation of the office of accounting systems for fiscal year 1986.

Section 33. The special committee created by chapter 4-8A may, upon recommendation of the Governor and a majority vote of all members of the special committee, establish the maximum salary or per diem compensation and allowable expenses that may be paid to members of state boards, councils, commissions and advisory bodies created by law during the sixtieth legislative session or created by an executive order of the Governor for purposes of setting policy.

The maximum salary or per diem compensation and allowable expenses that may be paid to members of state boards, councils, commissions and advisory bodies under the provisions of § 4-7-10.4 shall remain as fixed by chapter 28 of the Session Laws of 1984.

Section 34. If part of this Act is invalid, all valid parts that are severable from the invalid part remain in effect. If part of this Act is invalid in one or more of its applications, the part remains in effect in all valid applications that are severable from the invalid applications.

Section 35. The commissioner of finance and management may transfer from the inflation stabilization fund to the general fund an amount such that the amount transferred plus general fund revenue from all sources for fiscal year 1986 will not exceed total general funds appropriated by the Sixtieth Legislative Assembly, 1985.

Section 36. The funds appropriated in section 11, on page 74 line 19, shall be distributed by the board of regents for discretionary faculty salary adjustments, and administrative salary increases which are warranted by increases in administrative responsibilities, and under such further guidelines and restrictions as may be imposed by the board of regents.

Notwithstanding § 4-8-19, these funds shall be available for two fiscal years and shall revert on June 30, 1987.

Signed March 16, 1985.

ENTITLED, An Act to appropriate money for the ordinary expenses of the legislative, judicial, and executive departments of the state, the expenses of state institutions, interest on the public debt, and for common schools.

BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA:

Section 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the following sums of money or expenditure authority, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the ordinary expenses of the legislative, judicial, and executive departments of the state, certain officers, boards, and commissions, and support and maintenance of the educational, charitable, and penal institutions of the state for the fiscal year ending June 30, 2002.
